HORACE BOIES TO FIGHT FOR DAVID B. HENDERSON'S SEAT

Will Make Tariff Revision His Battle Cry, but May Confront a Republican Revisionist in November.

MORE ALLEGED LIGHT UPON THE SPEAKER'S RETIREMENT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Waterloo, Ia., Sept. 21.—Ex-Gov. Boies today issued his letter formally accepting the Democratic nomination for congress in the Third district of Iowa, in which Speaker David B. Henderson has served for 20 years. This letter contains detailed treatment of the tariff question, practically nothing else. Henderson is not mentioned.

Concerning the position to be taken by him in the forthcoming declaration, ex-Gov. Boies said this afternoon:

"I shall take my stand on tariff revision, not advocating free trade in the full sense this term conveys, but radical changes in many of the present schedules. I propose this as relief from the trusts, which are crushing Iowa. I am simply more radical than Republican revisionists."

Speaking of Henderson, the Democratic candidate said he regretted the withdrawal, since between himself and the speaker the issue was clear-cut. He fears confusion in opposing a Republican revisionist. He professed to be confident that he would have defeated Henderson and that he will defeat any Republican nominee.

State Chairman Spence and others are positive that Henderson did not contemplate his withdrawal when here a week ago Saturday. They think another influence was brought to bear between Saturday and Tuesday.

J. W. Richards, secretary of the speaker of the house, who reached Waterloo, his home, from the east today, thinks at least one of the deciding factors was the Oyster Bay conference.

"Henderson was not invited to attend," said he, "at a meeting where the character of the president's western speeches was to be shaped. Holding the second position in the nation representing the west, he felt justified in desiring to be consulted on so vital a point. Doubtless he knew the advisability of bringing to the attention of the conferees the pressing nature of the revision issue in the west."

This conference occurred in the three-day interim.

"I have risen," said he to a friend, "as high in the nation as it is possible for me to go, being Scotch by birth. I am too big a man to wear anybody's collar."

Probably the closest to him personally and politically in matters relating to the Third district, is Chairman Glasser of the congressional committee, his campaign manager. Tuesday afternoon Glasser was with Henderson in the Henderson rooms at the Julien hotel in Dubuque. Sunday Henderson began to write out a series of telegrams. He handed them to Glasser with the laconic remark: "Send these." They were addressed to other congressional committees and to chairmen of the respective county central committees, and announced tersely his withdrawal.

Glasser could not believe his eyes. He staggered and gasped, as he himself told a Waterloo political friend. Then he refused to take the dispatches. Henderson merely summoned his private secretary, handed him the letter of withdrawal with orders to give it to the press. Glasser was compelled, of course, to send the telegrams.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—David B. Henderson passed through Chicago today on his way to Atlantic City, where he will join Mrs. Henderson. Before leaving for the east Speaker Henderson reiterated his decision to retire from the congressional race in Iowa, denied any intention of "abdicating" his present position until his term of office shall have expired, and declared himself in perfect accord with the tariff views of President Roosevelt as enunciated in his Cincinnati speech.

"I have spent 20 years of my life fighting for protection for American industries and American labor, and I shall not be a party to any juggling at this late day," the speaker said. "President Roosevelt's tariff views, set forth in his Cincinnati speech, coincide with my own. There is no difference in our belief. His speech was a strong one and it has my hearty indorsement."

"Then the differences are confined to your own state?" was asked.

"Yes, largely. Let the new lights shine." The speaker smiled broadly as he used this phrase.

"Is there any chance of your friends prevailing on you to reconsider your action?"

"Absolutely none."

LAST HOURS OF SOLDIER MADE HAPPY

President Roosevelt Visits Bedside of Dying Spanish War Veteran.

DETROIT GREETS CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Great Crowds Line Streets and Cheer Him as He Drives About City.

LUNCHEON AT HOME OF GENERAL ALGER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, Sept. 21.—For the second time in its history the City of the Straits is entertaining the chief executive of the nation. President Roosevelt arrived in the city at 8 o'clock this morning.

He found Detroit awaiting his arrival in gala attire. Flags were flying from every staff in the downtown section and the city was bright with bunting. Pictures of President Roosevelt greeted the eye at every turn. Throughout the day the president has been greeted with tumultuous cheers at his every appearance. Crowds have lined the streets about the Hotel Cadillac, anxious for a glimpse at the chief magistrate, and his appearance was always the signal for an enthusiastic outburst of cheers. This afternoon the weather was bright and warm, with a pleasant breeze stirring the air and fluttering hundreds of flags.

It was a restful day for the president, although his time was completely occupied by the program mapped out for him by the local arrangements committee. Immediately on his arrival he was driven to the Hotel Cadillac, where he occupies the corner rooms on the parlor floor.

Visits Dying Veteran.

At 10:30 o'clock he attended services at the Fort Street Presbyterian church, driving from there to Gen. R. A. Alger's residence, where he was entertained at luncheon. He returned to the Cadillac soon after 3 o'clock, only to leave again in a short time for a drive about the city. During the drive he called at St. Mary's hospital, on St. Antoine street, where Thomas K. Doherty, a local veteran of the Spanish war, is dying of consumption. Doherty had expressed a wish to see the president, and Gen. Alger learned of it. Accordingly at luncheon today President Roosevelt was asked if he would call on Doherty at the hospital. The president answered that he would be delighted to do so. Doherty is unable to sit up, and the president remained at his bedside for some minutes, chatting with him and expressing words of cheer and hope.

Tonight the president dined at the Cadillac with a party of friends.

It lacked several minutes of 8 o'clock, the schedule time, when President Roosevelt's special rolled into the station. A great cheer went up from the crowd on the platform and in the station as the train came to a halt.

Met by the Committee.

The reception committee, headed by Gov. Bliss, Gen. Alger, Mayor Maybury, Congressman Corliss and representatives of the Spanish war veterans, met the president at the steps of his car. Mayor Maybury and Gen. Alger entered the car and greeted the president. In a few moments the president, accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, stepped down from the car and the members of the committee were presented to the chief magistrate. At a brisk walk, with the president and Mayor Maybury leading, the party then started down the platform for the station entrance.

A train that had arrived just a few minutes ahead of the presidential special stood on an adjoining track and its platforms were crowded with people anxious for a glimpse at the nation's chief executive. Cheers broke forth from each platform as the president passed, and he responded to each group with a smile and a wave of his hat.

The Detroit battalion of the Michigan naval reserves, with whom the president made a cruise on the lakes while he was assistant secretary of the navy, stood at present arms on Third street as the president emerged from the depot. Bowing to the crowds that cheered him to the echo, President Roosevelt entered his carriage, accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Gen. Alger and Mayor Maybury.

Cheers Along the Route.

After the other members of the presidential party had found their carriages the naval reserves wheeled into line and with a squad of mounted police at the head, the party started up Third street. Despite the comparatively early hour the streets were lined with people and the president was greeted with a succession of cheers throughout his ride to the Hotel Cadillac.

At the hotel entrance the naval reserves again formed in battalion front and stood at present arms as the president alighted from his carriage at the Washington avenue entrance. Before entering the hotel President Roosevelt walked across the street and complimented Capt. Standish on the appearance of his men and asked him to thank them on his behalf for turning out in his honor.

The president went immediately to his room on the second floor. Here he received the reception committee and local newspaper men and then was left to prepare for church.

At 10:20 he left the hotel for the Fort Street Presbyterian church, accompanied by Gen. Alger, Secretary Cortelyou and Mayor Maybury. The party stopped at Gen. Alger's residence on Fort street, where Mrs. Alger joined them. It was but a moment's drive to the church, which was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Pulpit Buried in Flags.

The president occupied Gen. Alger's pew with the General and Mrs. Alger and Secretary Cortelyou. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and the pulpit was hung with American flags. The subject of the Rev. E. B. Pence's sermon was "A Three-Fold Gospel," and his text was from First Thessalonians, 1:2. During the services the president's favorite hymn, "God Guard Columbia," was sung.

At the conclusion of the service the president drove to Gen. Alger's residence, where he was entertained at luncheon. Gov. Bliss, Mayor Maybury and Gen. H. M. Duffield were the only guests, aside

JEALOUS YOUTH THRICE SHOOTS CONEMAUGH GIRL

Then Turns Revolver on Himself and Sends Bullet Into His Heart.

YOUNG WOMAN WILL RECOVER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Johnstown, Sept. 21.—David M. Goughner, a well-known young man, shot and seriously wounded Miss Leorena Winnebrenner, aged 17, near her home in Conemaugh last night, then sent a bullet into his own heart, dying instantly.

Jealousy and a desire for revenge are given as the causes for the act.

Miss Winnebrenner, accompanied by Edward Kayler, were walking leisurely along a street. Goughner passed them evidently in a hurry. When a few feet ahead he suddenly turned, and without warning, commenced firing. The first shot struck Miss Winnebrenner just below the breastbone and took a downward course. As the girl turned and started to run, Goughner fired again, the bullet striking her in the left side, making only a slight wound. A third shot grazed her left wrist.

Kayler ran when the fusilade began and escaped injury. He says Goughner fired two shots at him.

After emptying the revolver Goughner reloaded it and, placing the muzzle directly over his heart, fired the shot which killed him instantly.

At the General hospital tonight it was said that while Miss Winnebrenner's condition is extremely serious, she may recover.

SAW LATE ERUPTION OF ANGRY MONT PELEE

Covered Ten Times More Territory Than the First One, But There Were Fewer Fatalities.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The Quebec Steamship Company's steamer Corona arrived today from the West Indies. Among the passengers was Capt. Walker McKay, agent for the steamship company in the West Indies. Capt. McKay said:

"I was at Fort de France, Martinique August 3, the day of the most recent eruption of Mount Pelee. The explosion was terrific and the rumblings and detonations were continuous for a long time. This eruption, it is estimated, caused the death of 2,000 people and covered an extent of territory 10 miles greater than did the great eruption of May last. This time the track of the disaster was beyond the mountain ridge and spread out over the interior.

"I saw the mountain in eruption. There appear to be numerous apertures below the edge of the crater from which the steam is ejected. The great cone is truncated and has changed considerably in appearance. The natives were abandoning large sections of the country in proximity to the mountain. The government has warned people to remove their effects to high ground in the interior in anticipation of a possible tidal wave.

"Martinique, in the northern part was greatly devastated, but the south is in full blossom and is thriving. We are shipping more freight now than before the eruption. It is a mistake to say that the people are starving and are crowding the fertile parts of the island. The fact is that, considering so many have been victims of the eruption, the fugitives are comparatively few in number. There is no need of food supplies. The natives will not go to work as long as they can obtain food for nothing. There is room for all and employment is easily obtained."

KINGSTOWN, ST. VINCENT, Thursday, Sept. 15.—There was an eruption of La Soufriere at midnight last night, but no loss of life. A peculiarity of this eruption is that no dust or scoria were emitted by the volcano. Flames were seen flickering above the crater and the sight was accompanied by internal and thunder-like explosions.

ROYAL PRINCESS IS DRIVEN FROM THE DEATH BED

Her Father, the Belgian King, Has Not Yet Forgiven Marriage.

REQUIEM MASS FOR LATE QUEEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brussels, Sept. 21.—A dispatch to the Patriote from Spa says that when King Leopold arrived there to arrange for the funeral of the deceased queen of the Belgians, he refused to speak to the Princess Stephanie, countess of Louyay, and compelled her to leave the royal palace. The royal princess, consequently, left Spa suddenly. She rode to the station in a hired carriage, and amid demonstrations of sympathy from the people took a train for Brussels.

Princess Stephanie is the second daughter of the late Queen Marie Henriette and King Leopold. She married the only son of the emperor of Austria in 1881 and was left a widow in 1889. She was married the second time in 1900 to Elmer, count of Lonyay. This marriage was against the wishes of King Leopold, who refused to permit it to be legalized. He has been very bitter against his daughter, and courts friendly to that of Belgium have declined to receive the princess.

SPA, BELGIUM, Sept. 21.—A requiem mass for the late queen of the Belgians, at which the bishop of Liege will officiate, will be celebrated here tomorrow. Special trains will be run for the occasion from Brussels to bring members of the royal family, who, after the mass, will conduct the remains of the late queen back to the capital. King Leopold arrived here today.

By Queen Marie Henriette's own desire her remains will not be embalmed, and an emulet, a gift of her dead son, which she always wore, will not be removed.

There are various versions of the quarrel between King Leopold and Princess Stephanie, his daughter, the most reliable of which is to the effect that the princess was in the death chamber when the king arrived at the palace. He refused to enter until she had left the room. Princess Clementine, the king's third daughter, came and took Princess Stephanie away. King Leopold then entered the death chamber and prayed before the coffin for 25 minutes.

The news of the quarrel between the king and the princess spread rapidly. It is announced that King Leopold will return to Bagneres-de-Luchon, France, next Saturday, after the funeral.

POSSE KILLS MURDERER.

Peter Olsen Opens Fire on His Pursuers and Is Shot Down—Killed Woman in Omaha.

BANCROFT, NEB., Sept. 21.—Peter Olsen, who shot and killed Mary Peterson in Omaha on September 8, because she declined to receive his attentions, was killed in a fight with a posse near here at noon today.

Olsen was recognized in a barber shop here early today. He left town at once and Constable Copple with a posse began the pursuit. The posse overtook Olsen three miles north of town. Copple ordered him to surrender and Olsen drew a revolver and opened fire.

A general fusillade followed, and Olsen fell. The posse rushed to Olsen, who raised his revolver and attempted to again fire. A member of the posse fired a load of shot into his body, from the effect of which he died while being brought to town.

KNOX WILL PREPARE REPORT IN THIS CITY

Will Devote Two Weeks at Once to the Work if the Department Duties Will Permit—Data Is All at Hand.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—Attorney General P. C. Knox reached the city this evening, after spending about two weeks in Paris, where he went to investigate the title to the property which the New Panama Canal Company hopes to sell to this government. Mr. Knox refused to discuss what he had accomplished abroad, dismissing the subject by saying he accumulated a large number of important documents and valuable data which he will look into in the next few days.

He says if affairs at the department of justice permit, he will spend about two weeks immediately on his report, which he hopes to have ready for presentation to President Roosevelt before congress convenes.

It is probable that Mr. Knox will go to Pittsburgh to conduct his work, as he feels he would be subject to many interruptions in Washington in connection with his official duties.

The attorney general stated he had no idea of taking part in the coming campaign, nor had he read the speech of President Roosevelt on the trust question delivered in Cincinnati yesterday.

WRECK AT CONEMAUGH ON THE PENNSYLVANIA

Fireman Caught Under Engine and His Corpse Terribly Mangled — Two Freight Trains Collide.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 21.—In a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad near Conemaugh tonight, in which two freight trains were involved, Fireman George Freeman of Pitcairn was instantly killed. His body was dragged for several hundred feet under the engine and horribly mangled.

A west-bound freight had been held just east of Conemaugh on signals and had received a clear block. The engineer had just called in his flagman when an extra, west bound, crashed into the rear of the train.

All four tracks were blocked for several hours. The wreckage took fire, and at a late hour tonight was still burning.

An Artist Suffocated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—J. Charles Collins, at one time a highly successful artist, was found dead today in his room at his boarding house. The coroner's verdict is that death was due to the accidental turning of a gas jet, the escaping gas killing the artist as he slept.

HUFF'S PAPERS OF NOMINATION ARE NOT VALID

So Decides the Dauphin Court, Written Opinion to Come.

NEXT TUESDAY IS THE TIME LIMIT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—Judge Weiss has declared invalid the certificate of nomination of Col. George F. Huff of Greensburg, Republican candidate for congress in the Twenty-second district, composed of Butler and Westmoreland counties.

The court's decision leaves the Republicans without a candidate in this district, and unless a nomination be made so that the certificate may be filed in the state department before Tuesday midnight, when the time limit for filing such papers expires, the candidate will have to go on the ballot by nomination papers. This would prove a serious handicap if the two counties should not agree on a nominee, and efforts are being made to effect a compromise by which a nomination will be made that cannot be successfully attacked in the courts and will be satisfactory to the Republicans of the district.

Judge Simonton returned late last night from Raikley lakes, where he has been spending his vacation. After a short consultation with his colleague, Judge Weiss announced the decision, with the explanation that an opinion would be written and filed later.

The court declares Huff's certificate invalid on the ground that the alleged compact between Butler and Westmoreland counties, under which Butler should have three conferees and Westmoreland eight, had not been properly ratified by the county committees, the evidence showing that there had not been a quorum of the joint committee when the compact was alleged to have been ratified.

The objections to the Huff certificate were filed by Congressman Joseph B. Showalter of Butler, who was indorsed by Butler county, but declined to participate in the conference at Pittsburgh on September 1, at which Huff was nominated by the Westmoreland conferees.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Republican leaders of Westmoreland county have been in conference here a great part of the day trying to solve the muddle in the Twenty-second congressional district. Late tonight it is doubtful whether the ex-congressman's name will head the ticket in the two counties. Telephonic communication has been carried on almost all day with the Butler county Republicans who are not in sympathy with the candidacy of Congressman Joseph Showalter, but no definite plan of action had been determined.

The only solution to the muddle, it is stated here tonight, is the coming together of the Butler county committee to approve the same rule that was authorized by the Westmoreland county committee, and under which Col. Huff was nominated in Pittsburgh. If Showalter would again refuse to send conferees, Col. Huff's conferees will again choose him as the nominee and his nomination papers will be filed before midnight on Tuesday. If this is not done Col. Huff will take out separate nomination papers.

WRONG MAN ARRESTED.

Prisoner Supposed to Be Murderer of Mrs. Pulitzer Says He Is a Pittsburgher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—One arrest was made early this evening in the Pulitzer murder case, and for a time there was much excitement, it being believed the murderer was at last in custody. Policeman White arrested a man who was acting suspiciously in Flatbush avenue and who somewhat resembled Young.

When taken to the station the prisoner said he is William Patchen, 34 years old, and that his home is in Pittsburgh. He is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs about 140 pounds and is of swarthy complexion.

Detective Jackson attached to the staff of Capt. Titus, who knows Young slightly, went over to Brooklyn, and after seeing the prisoner, announced that a mistake had been made. Nevertheless Patchen was held, and another attempt will be made to identify him, although there is no likihood that he is Young.

NEGRO SHOOTS BUSINESS MAN THROUGH BACK

Thomas Russell of Grampian Killed Protecting Small Boy.

CRIMINAL EASILY ESCAPES CAPTURE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 21.—Grampian, this county, was the scene of a shocking murder this afternoon. Thomas Russell, one of the best known residents of that town, was shot down by Mose Taylor, alias Thomas, colored.

After the crime the murderer succeeded in making his escape, and while he is being pursued by a posse of officers and citizens, he has successfully eluded capture up to a late hour tonight.

The crime was committed about 3 o'clock. The colored man was having some trouble with a small boy, when the murdered man went to the rescue of the boy. Taylor turned from the boy, pointed a revolver at Russell and fired two shots. Neither struck him, and Russell grabbed the revolver and wrenched it from the negro.

After securing possession of the revolver Russell turned his back upon the colored man and walked away. He had gone but a few yards, when Taylor drew another revolver from his pocket and shot Russell through the back. As Russell fell dead the negro took to his heels, and in the excitement that prevailed for a few minutes no one thought to attempt to make him a prisoner.

The murdered man was about 40 years of age and is survived by his wife and several children. The perpetrator of the murder is a man perhaps 30 years old. He was a coal miner and lived about one and one-half miles from Grampian.

EXPLORER DEDRICK BACK IN NEW YORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Dr. Thomas S. Dedrick, whose sensational manner of leaving the Peary expedition a year ago attracted much attention, reached New York today and went to the St. Denis hotel. He said a sense of duty still sealed his lips and that he could not at present tell of the details of his disagreement with Lieut. Peary, which led to his abrupt withdrawal from the expedition, which he joined four years ago as a surgeon and explorer.

Asked if the trouble was due to the alleged favoritism shown to Matthew Hanson, he replied that the colored man had nothing to do with it. He will first ascertain who is the author of the stories of his mental aberration, and the offer to have a commission examine him as to his sanity still holds good.

In appearance Dr. Dedrick showed little signs of hardship and privation. He seemed to be sturdy and strong. Dr. Dedrick reached the Grand Central station at 7 o'clock this morning. He had been accompanied as far as Boston by Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary club, who had gone north to meet Lieut. Peary. In the train shed the doctor was met by his four brothers and by J. B. R. Smith, assistant secretary of state of New Jersey. Mrs. Dedrick was waiting to greet her husband, whom she had not seen for four years, at the St. Denis hotel. They expect to go to their home in Washington, N. J., tomorrow.

DAY OF FUNERALS.

Many Victims of Stampede at Shiloh Church Are Buried—Whites Raise Fund.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Sept. 21.—This was a day of funerals in Birmingham, the remains of 38 victims of the panic in Shiloh church being held. All the negro churches were crowded and the negroes were wrought to a high pitch by the eulogistic sermons over the dead.

The death list numbers 105, and 100 of these have been identified. The police assert that in addition, at least five bodies were taken to private houses.

In nearly all the churches for whites sums were raised today to assist the negroes who are unable to give their dead proper burial, and a burial fund of $300 has been accumulated.

from the members of Gen. Alger's family.

It was after 3 o'clock when the president and Secretary Cortelyou returned to the Cadillac. Another brief reception was held for the newspaper men and after a short chat with a party of them, during which the president renewed acquaintances with several whom he had met before, the party went driving.

Always Sees the Veterans.

As President Roosevelt left the elevator and started for his carriage he noticed a crippled veteran of the Spanish war, a delegate to the reunion of Spanish war veterans, sitting near the elevator entrance. Walking briskly over to his seat the president shook his hand and inquired after his health. The man was Mr. M. Mitchell of Washington, who served in the Fourth New Jersey regiment.

The chief executive occupied a carriage belonging to the police department on his afternoon drive. Capt. Guyman, in police uniform, had the reins, and as the president stepped in he remarked laughingly: "Captain, this looks as though you were going to lock me up."

Washington avenue was crowded with people and the air rang with cheers as the horses started up the avenue at a sharp trot. The president's party drove out Woodward avenue four miles to the boulevard which encircles the city. This was followed to its intersection with Jefferson avenue at the approach to Belle Isle bridge. The intention had been to drive by way of Jefferson avenue, but here the crowds on the watch for the president's coming were so great as to seriously impede the progress of the party and the carriages were turned into more secluded streets.

Almost Under Horses' Feet.

Two little girls had a narrow escape from being trampled upon by the horses attached to the president's carriage. They darted out suddenly from the curb almost under the horses' feet. Capt. Guyman was compelled to throw the animals back on their haunches to keep them off the children.

The occupants of the president's carriage were brought to their feet in trembling anticipation of a tragedy, and it was only by a hair's breadth that the little ones escaped. Then it was that the route was changed to less congested streets. President Roosevelt suggested a change as soon as he saw the crowded condition of Jefferson avenue, and the party proceeded only about two blocks when the narrow escape of the two little girls proved that his fears were well grounded.

Secretary Cortelyou rode with the president and a secret service man sat on the box with Police Captain Guyman. In the second carriage were Police Commissioner Fowle, Chairman George T. Gaston of the local executive committee for the Spanish war veterans' convention, and three officers. The third and last carriage contained Congressman Corliss of Detroit, the president's physician, Dr. Lung, and Secretaries Loeb and Barnes. The party drove from 3:30 until about 5:30 o'clock.

Dines With Friends at Hotel.

Tonight the president dined in the Flemish room of the Cadillac with a party of friends. Among the guests were Francis H. Clergue of Sault Ste. Marie, Gen. Alger, Hon. William E. Quinby, Gen. Duffield, Mayor Maybury, Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Lung and Assistant Secretaries Loeb and Barnes.

Tomorrow will be a very busy day for the chief executive and his party. The president will address the convention of Spanish war veterans at 10 a. m.; at 11 o'clock he will be driven to the steamer Tashmoo for a ride on the river, returning at 3 o'clock; at 4 o'clock he will review the parade of veterans and military, a unique feature of which will be the presence of the Twenty-first regiment of Essex Fusiliers from Canada. At 8 p. m. he will attend the banquet of the veterans in Light Guard armory, where he will make the address of the evening.

WANTS QUIET DAY.

President Roosevelt Desires No Demonstration When He Visits Senator Hanna Next Saturday.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 21.—Senator Hanna tonight stated that President Roosevelt had made the request that no public demonstration be made over his visit to Cleveland as the guest of Senator Hanna next Saturday night and Sunday. The visit is not a public one and the president wishes to spend the day as quietly as possible at Senator Hanna's home on Lake avenue.

Senator Hanna was asked what he thought of the president's speech at Cincinnati yesterday, but declined to make any comment or statement. Neither would he make any statement as to what transpired at the conference at Oyster Bay a few days ago.

Representative Charles E. Littlefield of Maine left at noon today for California, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Littlefield will make a number of speeches in that state. Later in the campaign he will return to Ohio and deliver several speeches in this county in support of the candidacy of the Hon. Theodore E. Burton's re-election to congress.

THE WEATHER.

According to the forecast from Washington, it is probable that the high temperature to which this vicinity has been subjected for the past two days will abate and the mercury drop a few degrees. It will continue generally fair both today and tomorrow. The maximum registered yesterday was 81, the minimum 62. RAILROAD MEN THINK TIME RIPE TO HELP MINERS

Send for Grand Master Morrissey to Come to Anthracite Region at Once.

TRAINMEN OBJECT TO HAULING COAL

Three Men Arrested at Edwardsville Charged With Attacking Home of Non-Union Worker. Mob Also Fires on Deputies.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 21.—Members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen employed on all railroads centering in Wilkesbarre held a secret meeting at Kingston today. The object of the meeting was to take some action on the question of brotherhood men hauling coal from the mines where non-union men are employed.

The only information that would be given out was that a resolution had been adopted requesting the secretary of each local division to write a letter to Grand Master P. H. Morrissey, requesting him to come here at once.

Morrissey was in the strike region some time ago and looked over the situation. He is said to have come to the conclusion then that the time was not opportune for the railroad men to do anything.

The mining town of Edwardsville, near here, was the scene of much lawlessness last night and early this morning. A crowd of men went in search of a man named James McGuire who went to work in the mines last week. They threw stones at several houses, broke down the doors of the dwelling where McGuire was supposed to be harbored and committed other depredations.

The mob also fired on the deputies at the Edward mine. The officers returned the fire, but no one was wounded.

Early this morning three men were arrested. In default of $1,000 bail they were committed to jail.

READING, PA., Sept. 21.—There passed through this city last night and today three trains, a total of 150 cars, of anthracite coal, amounting to about 4,500 tons. One-third of this is said to have been recently mined and the remainder has been held in storage at Cressona. It is said the newly mined coal all comes from the western end of Schuylkill county.

The Reading Company's officials here believe that the increased shipments of washery coal promised from now on will solve the question of supplying the market with fuel during the strike.

MINERS TO GET $1,200.

That Amount Is Estimated Revenue from Labor Day—$800 Already Turned Over.

The revenue from the Labor Day celebration in Pittsburgh is now figured at $1,200. Part of this is an estimate, but rather than wait for final accountings the executive committee has decided to at once forward $800 to the anthracite miners' strike fund. Secretary-Treasurer John Fernau of the demonstration has placed in the hands of William Dodds, the Pittsburgh district secretary of the miners a warrant for this amount. This will be sent to General Secretary-Treasurer William B. Wilson and the fund will soon be distributed among the miners of the anthracite region.

Secretary Fernau who has notified the chairman of the several Labor Day subcommittees to arrange for prompt final settlement, said last night that he expects to have a meeting a week from Wednesday of the executive committee to close the business of the treasury and arrange to send the balance of the fund to the miners.

BENEFIT FOR MINERS.

Great Crowds Attends Vaudeville Production in New York—Strikers Get All the Receipts.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers' union met a number of local labor leaders here today and in the evening attended a theatrical benefit for the miners under the auspices of the relief committee of the American Federation of Labor.

The Actors' National Protective union gave the talent for the performance of vaudeville acts and the management donated the theater for the evening. Mr. Mitchell was greeted with enthusiastic cheers as he entered the theater.

There was an immense throng in the theater. The Actors' union gave $100 for one gallery seat and sent word that Mr. Mitchell could have the services of the members of the union whenever he wanted to give a benefit for the miners in any city in the union.

WAS TIRED OF LIFE.

Young Woman Tries Carbolic Acid to End Her Existence.

Mamie Wright, 23 years old, residing in the rear of No. 608 Robinson street, with Mrs. Rachel Day, tried suicide by taking carbolic acid soon after midnight last night. She was hurried to the Allegheny General hospital about 1 o'clock this morning, but there is small hope for her recovery. The young woman's motive in trying to end her life could not be learned.

INDEPENDENCE.

Easy to Gain Independence Once You Acquire the Saving Habit.

In prosperous America it is amazing to see so many poor people, who if they saved the money they foolishly spend would be happy and well to do. There is only one way to succeed and that is to spend less than you earn and deposit the balance with an old established bank like the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Smithfield street, opposite postoffice, where your money will earn 4 per cent compound interest. This well-known bank, established in 1852, cares for the savings of 38,000 persons, mostly wage earners and their total savings amount to over $12,000,000. A dollar starts an account. Write for booklet No. 26.

The brass section of the famous Fadettes is a wonder! Its tones are smooth and soft as velvet. Only two days more to hear them at the New Exposition.

Tomorrow night the famous Fadettes close their engagement at the New Exposition. You must come early tonight for a seat.

"The Nightingale Orchestra." This is the translation given to the word "Fadettes." Their playing is absolutely superb. Hear them at the New Exposition tonight.

25,000 people today are telling their neighbors of the exquisite music the Fadettes are producing at the New Exposition.

Aged Pastor Near the Door of Death.

The Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, who is the oldest Protestant minister, both in years and service, in Pittsburgh, is lying dangerously ill at his home in Aiken avenue, Shadyside. Dr. Reid, while on the way to his office in the United Presbyterian Publication building Saturday morning was taken ill in a street car. He was taken to his office and given medical attention and in the afternoon recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home. His illness developed into a severe attack of pneumonia and he has constantly been under the care of his physician since. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning it was thought he was dying, but he rallied and late yesterday afternoon his condition was greatly improved. Owing to Dr. Reid's illness the services at the First church were dispensed with last night.

REV. WILLIAM J. REID, D. D.

THE NEW SYNAGOGUE WAS THROWN OPEN

First Hebrew Church in Monongahela Valley was Dedicated Yesterday.

The new synagogue of the Agudat Achim Orthodox Hebrew congregation in Talbot avenue, Braddock, was dedicated yesterday. It is the first synagogue to be erected in the Monongahela or Turtle Creek valleys. The ceremonies were elaborate and a number of rabbis from the western part of the state were present. Morning and afternoon services were held.

The synagogue was dedicated according to the ancient ritual, beginning with the formal throwing open of the doors, followed by a hymn sung by Rabbi Basil, the pastor, and a choir of 30 children. The perpetual light on the altar was ignited by Rabbi Basil, Rabbi M. S. Sivitz and Rabbi M. Fried, after which "How goodly are thy tents, O Israel," was sung by the rabbis and the children. Rabbi Sivitz and Rabbi Essil then delivered dedicatory addresses in English and German.

The saphorim, the scrolls of the law, were placed upon the altar by the president and vice president of the congregation and Judge Josiah Cohen followed with an address in English. While the reader recited the Thirtieth Psalm and the congregation and the rabbis chanted, the bearers took up the saphorim and carried them about the synagogue, afterwards depositing them in the ark on the altar. Rabbi M. Fried preached a sermon in English and County Register Fred W. Edwards and Attorney Edward J. Small of Braddock made speeches. The closing address and benediction was by Rabbi Sivitz.

The site of the synagogue cost $4,000 and the building $16,000. It will seat about 600 persons and has a basement containing schoolrooms. The society was formed eight years ago with 20 members and worshiped in the hall of the Ancient Order of Hibernians until recently.

OLD BUT STILL ACTIVE.

South Side Policeman Celebrated 60th Birthday and Thrashed Son-In-Law All in One Day.

Officer Michael Wright of the South Side police district was 60 years old yesterday and he celebrated the event by thrashing his son-in-law, Michael Tracy, after which he played him under arrest. Officer Wright has been on the police force for nearly 25 years and on account of this ago and faithful service he was given the position of wagonman at the Thirty-sixth ward police station about one year ago.

Wright lives near his son-in-law, at No. 116 Spruce street. Yesterday morning as the anniversary of his birth was about being ushered in, the veteran policeman was awakened and informed that his daughter was being abused by her husband. Wright hastily donned a few clothes and hurried to Tracey's house. Tracey showed fight and Wright sailed into him. After Tracey had promised to do better the old officer told the young man he was under arrest. Tracey demurred, but Wright landed him at the patrol box.

At the hearing yesterday morning Tracey looked sad. "It ain't the first, second, third or fourth time he has done this," declared Wright, "and I thought it about time to trim him up," he added. Magistrate D. J. McGarey smiled approval as he fined Tracey $5 and costs, and then Tracey returned home, willing to help his father-in-law celebrate his birthday properly.

REV. HUSS IS BACK.

East McKeesport Pastor Says He Can Satisfactorily Explain Long Absence from Charge.

The Rev. Charles F. Huss, pastor of the Presbyterian church at East McKeesport, who was granted a leave of absence last April by his congregation for three months and failed to return at the time specified, returned to his congregation on Friday last, and expressed his desire to a number of the official and lay members of the church that he be allowed to preach another sermon to them.

He said he could properly and satisfactorily explain his action in leaving the congregation so long and remaining in Oregon and the Yellowstone park for several months while the official board desired him to return.

Two months ago the congregation held a congregational meeting and decided to postpone its call for a new minister until it could get a full explanation from Mr. Huss. A congregational meeting will be held next Wednesday night. Rev. Huss is at Waynesburg.

THINKS HIM INSANE.

Warden Lewis Would Not Receive at the Jail a Man Who Had Stabbed Himself.

Matthew Pomeroy stabbed himself in the neck and breast several times with a fingernail cutter at the Central police station yesterday morning. He lives at No. 125 Fourth avenue, and was arrested early in the morning at No. 429 Second avenue for drunkenness. He bled profusely from his wounds and was sent to the Homeopathic hospital, where his wounds were bound up and he was sent back to the station.

Magistrate D. J. McGarey fined him $5 and costs or 10 days to jail. As he did not have the money he was taken to jail, but Warden Lewis refused to accept him, on the ground that the man is insane. He was then taken back to the station and placed in the dungeon, and will be given in charge of the department of charities today. Pomeroy is a cook, 30 years of age, and came here recently from Louisville.

IOWA MINISTER BLAMES IT ALL ON THE WOMAN

Declares Her Continual Nagging Forced Him to Separate from His Wife.

RESIGNS FROM PULPIT AND CHURCH

Stops His Trial by Declaring He Cannot Secure Fair Hearing. Was Charged With Unclerical Conduct—Will Try Mining.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Keokuk, Ia., Sept. 21.—The case of the Rev. P. J. Henness before the Iowa conference of the Methodist Episcopal church came very dramatically to an end early this morning. After the trial committee appointed by Bishop Hamilton had been in session far into the night Mr. Henness himself took the stand.

He said it was evident to himself and to his attorneys that he was not to have a fair trial, and he handed the parchments of his ordination to the committee, following with his resignation from membership in the church and from the ministry. Turning to his wife, who was present, the self-unfrocked minister exclaimed:

"Woman, behold the wreck of a man you have made."

His wife broke down at this dramatic exhibition.

The committee on the trial of Mr. Henness immediately closed its session, having lost its jurisdiction of the case by his action in placing himself outside the pale of the church.

Mr. Henness, after maintaining silence stubbornly for a year, said today that the reason he left his wife was because of her continual "nagging," which broke down his health and rendered it impossible for him to do ministerial work.

The charge against him before the conference was his separation from his wife, whom he agreed to support, but refused to live with. No question of immorality was involved, the claims of the prosecution being that Mr. Henness' conduct was unclerical, and that a minister so separated from his wife should not be sent out as pastor over a church by the bishop.

Mr. Henness will go to North Dakota to engage in mining. His friends say a movement will be started from his case to have the general quadrennial conference of the Methodist church take action against one of the oldest and most prominent bishops, who also separated from his wife under similar conditions.

PATTISON'S ITINERARY.

Third Week of Their Tour Will Be Spent Mainly In the Northwestern Counties.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The Pattison campaign party will spend the third week of their tour in Western and Northwestern Pennsylvania. The itinerary was completed today by Chairman Rilling of the state campaign committee. Representative Fred T. Ikeler of Bloomsburg, N. M. Edwards of Williamsport will accompany Pattison and his associates.

The party will leave Pittsburgh on Monday, September 29, for Sharon, where a morning meeting will be held. In the afternoon there will be meeting at Greenville and Mercer and in the evening at Franklin and Oil City.

Tuesday there will be day meetings at Titusville, Spartansburg, Corry and North East and night meetings at the Auditorium and Maennerchor hall, Erie.

Wednesday the party will visit Girard, Albion, Springboro, Conneautville, Linesville and Meadville, holding a night meeting in the opera house at Meadville.

Thursday there will be day meetings at Tionesta, Tidioute, Youngsville and Warren and a night meeting at Bradford, the home of ex-Senator Lewis W. Emery, Jr., the Union party nominee for secretary of internal affairs.

Friday's program includes visits to Mt. Jewett, Smethport and Eldred and an evening meeting at Coudersport.

Saturday the party will speak at day meetings at Port Allegheny and St. Marys and hold a night meeting at Ridgway.

The itinerary for the fourth week's tour has not yet been prepared.

TWENTY-FOUR IMMERSED.

Great Crowd Witnessed Baptisms in the Monongahela River at Braddock.

At least 6,000 people witnessed the Christian Alliance's baptism services at Braddock yesterday. Twenty-four converts were immersed while the curious throng watched. The Rev. Frank B. Casley, who had conducted revival services in a tent on Washington avenue, Braddock, was the first to be immersed, the Rev. Charles H. Chaulin performing the ceremony. After Chaulin's re-baptism the two ministers then baptized 14 women and 10 men.

The immersion took place in the Monongahela river, between Eighth and Ninth streets. A chorus of 50 voices was present and sang hymns and psalms during the ceremony. Those baptized were all white persons, the greater part being adults. The Rev. Casley will organize a church in Braddock and has already secured a hall on Washington avenue. It is said he has converted 300 persons during the 14 weeks of revival services.

CUT BY ASSAILANT.

John McKnight Was Attacked on Forward Avenue Bridge by Three Italians.

John McKnight, aged 19 years, of Nixon street, was attacked last night by an Italian on the Forward avenue bridge, near Schenley park, and seriously injured. Two deep gashes were cut in his face and neck. His assailant escaped. McKnight is at the Mercy hospital and will recover.

McKnight and Barney McGinty of Lewis street were standing on the bridge talking to two young women, when they were approached by three Italians. An altercation followed and one of the men drew a long knife and rushed upon his victim, cutting him across the neck and under the left eye. The Italians fled and McKnight was taken to the office of Dr. J. W. Wallace. After his wounds were dressed he was removed to the hospital. The police expected to capture the Italians before morning.

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by which strengthens the whole digestive system

NARROWLY ESCAPED WITH THEIR LIVES

RESIDENCE OF HENRY J. FORD IS DESTROYED.

Early Morning Blaze in Shadyside District Causes a Loss of $8,000.

The residence of Henry J. Ford, No. 4935 Center avenue, near Morewood avenue, was burned out about 5 o'clock yesterday morning, the family barely escaping in their night clothing.

Mr. Ford's daughter, whose room was on the second floor, was aroused by a crackling sound, and opening the door found that the house was on fire. She rushed to her parents' room, alarming them, and the other members of the family at home, boys aged respectively 15 and 13 years, were aroused. The older of them was asleep in a room in the rear of the house, directly over the flames, which were then bursting from the kitchen windows, and as he is a sound sleeper there were some moments of intense anxiety before he could be aroused.

Two maid servants who slept on the third floor were the last to get out. Just as they reached the front hall the door between the kitchen and dining room fell in and the flames went roaring through the entire house.

The fire engines arrived in about 10 minutes and soon had the fire out, but not until the interior had been burned out, furniture, window frames, stairways and all other wood work being charred and ruined.

The fire appears to have originated in the laundry, but the cause is a mystery, as it had not been used since Tuesday last. Mr. Ford, who is on the editorial staff of The Gazette, did not reach home until 1 a. m. and entered the dining room then without noticing anything wrong. Mr. Ford's money loss will amount to about $3,000, but among the articles destroyed were family portraits in oil and other heirlooms whose loss is irreparable. His insurance is light.

The house is the property of Miss Jane Bradley. The walls are left in fairly good condition, but the interior is entirely wrecked and destroyed. The loss on the property will be fully $5,000.

AGAINST TARIFF CUT.

The New York Republican Platform Agree With President on Remedy for Trust Problem.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Not in many years has there been, two nights prior to the assembling of a New York state Republican convention, such placidity as exists tonight. Undoubtedly this is because the majority of selections for the state ticket have been practically agreed upon. Gov. Odell will, of course, be nominated. The contest for lieutenant governor practically ended tonight, when it was announced that the delegations from New York, Westchester and Erie counties had decided to go into the convention pledged for George R. Sheldon.

There has not as yet been anything definitely decided upon the trust plank except that while condemning certain combinations of capital there will be no appeal to congress for drastic execution. On the tariff question the indications are that a very definite stand will be taken against revision on the ground that the benefit to be gained will be infinitesimal as compared with the injury that will be done among industrials and workingmen by an opening of the question of revision.

CORONET WINS OCEAN RACE.

Iroquois Finishes Second and Lauder's Yacht Endymion Third.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Louis Bossert's famous schooner yacht, Coronet, had the honor of finishing first in the ocean race of the Atlantic Yacht club. She was only six minutes in front of the equally well-known schooner, Iroquois, owned by J. G. Neafie Whittaker of Philadelphia, who, with the time allowed her is the winner of the tussel of 210 nautical miles, from Sea Gate to and around the northern lightship off Cape May and return.

George Lauder, Jr.'s schooner Endymion finished third, one hour astern of the Iroquois, while the Thistle, owned by Commodore Robert E. Tod, was not reported until after 10 o'clock tonight. The schooner Sachem also started but withdrew.

Though the Endymoin was well the leader for a long time after leaving Sandy Hook, she was gradually picked up and finally passed by the Coronet, which was first to round the lightship off Cape May. The Iroquois secured second place after hours of fighting and did not lose it.

WOMAN DIES OF FRIGHT CAUSED BY NIGHTMARE

Last of Mrs. Burk's Series of Dreams Had a Fatal Ending.

SCREAMED AND FELL ON FLOOR DEAD

Little Daughter and Boarding Mistress Were Awakened by Cry—Husband Found Wife Dead in Morning.

A terrifying dream, one of many that had unnerved her, frightened Mrs. Margaret Burk to death at her home in Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks, yesterday morning shortly after 2 o'clock. The last dream was fatal, because it wrought an attack of heart failure. Her heart, unable to recover from the shock dealt by some fearful vision, soon ceased to beat. She was 25 years old and had heart trouble for several years. Her three-year-old daughter was sleeping with her mother, when she was seized with the strange dream that ended her life.

The family boarded with a Mrs. Watson of No. 527 Chartiers avenue. Her husband, Joseph, is employed by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and worked at night. His wife was apparently in robust health. Last week she was unable to sleep at nights, and complained of feeling badly and of weird dreams. Saturday night she went to the drug store to get some arnica for her husband. She returned and retired with her daughter about 11 o'clock.

About 2 o'clock Mrs. Watson heard Mrs. Burk scream and then she heard a crash in the bedroom. She went to Mrs. Burk's bedroom and knocked at the door. As she received no answer she returned to her bedroom, thinking that she had made a mistake.

Joseph Burk returned home from work at 7 o'clock and went to his wife's bedroom. He knocked at the door, but did not receive any answer. Then he called Mrs. Watson and they called to Mrs. Burk's three-year-old daughter and she got out of bed and let her father in the room. Her mother was lying on the floor dead.

She became terrified in her dream and jumped up in bed and fell face downward on the floor. The shock killed her instantly. Her nose was badly crushed by striking the floor. Dr. L. M. Herrington was summoned, but the woman had been dead for hours when he arrived. The little daughter said she heard her mother scream in her dreams and fall on the floor, but she was so frightened that she did not make an outcry and soon fell asleep.

Mrs. Burk was often seized with these nightmares and they always left her in a nervous and exhausted state. Deputy Coroner John Black investigated the case and said it was one of the strangest he ever encountered in his experience.

RAIDING CONTINUES.

Police Visited Many Houses Yesterday and Captured Proprietors and Visitors.

The police continue to be active in gathering in speakeasies and disorderly houses. Several raids were reported yesterday.

The South Side police made two raids in that district yesterday. The house of John Rogdi at No. 80 South Sixteenth street, was entered and seven visitors were found there. The house of John Glavius, at No. 55 Washington avenue, was also visited and a quantity of liquor was found. No visitors were found in the latter place. All parties were taken to No. 7 police station. They will be arraigned for a hearing this morning.

Capt. C. F. Ford and a squad of police raided a house at Forty-seventh and Butler streets and arrested John Berry and 13 visitors. They were locked up in No. 5 police station and they will be given a hearing this morning. Berry is charged with keeping a disorderly house.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Inspector Lennox, Lieut. Myers and a squad of policemen raided a house in Thirteenth street, between Pike and Etna streets, and arrested Mrs. Kate Hollerman, Thomas Smith, Frank Redman, Thomas Mathews, Patrick Sullivan, Jack Crotty and William Flood. Mrs. Hollerman was charged with keeping a disorderly house and the men were charged with being visitors. They were all held for a hearing this morning.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Inspector Lennox arrested Michael McCally at his house in Fourteenth street, near Etna street, on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. McCally was held for a hearing this morning at No. 5 police station.

AT THE EXPOSITION.

Last Opportunity to Hear Fadettes Women's Orchestra Comes Tonight.

Tonight will be the last opportunity afforded the people of this city to hear the Fadettes Women's orchestra at the exposition, as their engagement closes with this performance.

By special request Miss Mamie Reuck-Wilczek will play this evening the beautiful "Largo" of Handel to the accompaniment of all the strings in the orchestra. Miss Mildred Rogers will be heard twice today in vocal solos. Miss Rogers was for a season a contralto in the Bostonians, in which she assumed the roles formerly assigned to Jessie Bartlett Davis.

The following is this afternoon's program:

2 p. m.

March, "Under the Double Eagle"...Wagner
Overture, "Fra Diavolo".....Auber
Serenade .....Moskowski
"Czardas" from "Coppelia".....Delibes
Cocoanut dance .....Hermann

4 p. m.

March, "The Girls of America".....Duganne
Three dances from music to "Henry VIII".....German
1, Morris dance; 2, Shepherd's dance; 3, Torch dance.
Song, "My Love Is Come".....Marzials
Miss Mildred Rogers.
"The Mice and the Trap".....Koehler
Synopsis: The mice are playing happily about the trap. One mouse, braver than the rest, ventures in and gnaws the cheese. The trap snaps on poor mousie and the rest scamper away to their holes.
Overture, "Orpheus".....Binder

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Events That Are to Happen In the Near Future.

One of the weddings announced for the latter part of next month is that of Miss Cora Belle Maxwell of McKeesport to Charles Koerbel of this city.

Mrs. Katherine Coyle announces the marriage of her daughter, Cora, to Mr. John M. Sherrer, which occurred in this city, Saturday, September 20. Mr. and Mrs. Sherrer will be at home after October 20.

Invitations have been issued by Miss Virginia Graham and Mrs. Bertman Moorwood of Sewickley for a "linen shower" to be given on Friday evening, September 26, at the residence of Miss Graham, No. 719 Centennial avenue, Sewickley, in honor of the Rev. Mr. McFall, the pastor of the Sewickley Baptist church.

SHOT HERSELF THROUGH HEART

Death of Husband, Long an Invalid, Causes Wife to Become Insane.

A BEAVER FALLS TRAGEDY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 21.—Mrs. Jane Rebeske, widow of John L. Rebeske, who died Monday of last week after a lingering illness, committed suicide this morning by shooting herself through the heart with a revolver.

The cause assigned is temporary insanity, caused by ill-health, brought on by the incessant care of her invalid husband and brooding over his death.

Ever since his death and funeral she has been acting strangely. On Friday she went to New Brighton and purchased a revolver. This morning shortly after breakfast, leaving her only son, a lad about 11 years old, and a young man boarder, who has made his home with them for a long time, she retired to an out building and shortly afterward a shot was heard. They ran out and found her dead. She had shot herself through the heart and died instantly.

Mrs. Rebeske was 36 years old. Her maiden name was Schell.

DR. M'COOK RESIGNS.

Ill-Health Forces Him to Give Up a 33-Year Pastorate—Can't Attend the Wash.-Jeff Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Dr. Henry McCook, for 33 years pastor of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, this city, today resigned. He was too ill to announce the fact, and sent a letter which was read to the congregation. Failing health is the reason given.

Dr. McCook is a member of the "Fighting McCook" family and is a well-known scientist and soldier. He will retire to a country home at Devon. He will be elected pastor-emeritus.

His poor health will prevent his appearance at the centennial of Washington and Jefferson college, of which he is an alumnus, when he was to be given the degree of LL.D.

BUILDING CAR SHOPS.

Work Has Begun on B. & O. R. R. Improvements at New Castle Junction—New Hotel Planned.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Ground has been broken for the erection of car shops and a roundhouse to cost $80,000 at New Castle junction by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Several miles of additional track is to be laid in the junction yards, which will have a capacity sufficient to accommodate 3,300 cars.

The entire improvements planned will cost more than $200,000 and the junction yards and shops will be the most extensive and complete on the system west of Pittsburgh.

A hotel three stories in height is also to be erected, for the accommodation of railroad men whose division headquarters are there, as well as for the general traveling public.

DISCOVER HUMAN SKULL.

Was Buried Under Hearth on Second Floor of House.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—While remodeling the property of William Taylor yesterday at Williamsport, below here, the workmen made a ghastly find. While removing the hearth of the fireplace in a big stone chimney on the second floor they unearthed a human skull and also what appears to be an old bayonet.

The building is over 100 years old and was used as a fort in the early days, and also as a guard house during the civil war.

New Steel Manufacturing Company.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The Glen Manufacturing Company, composed of local and Ellwood capitalists, has just secured a charter. The company will manufacture iron and steel products and will market many steel and wire novelties. The directors are John C. Offutt, the Hon. R. A. Todd, Arthur Kugeman, Joseph R. Richardson and Henry P. Richardson. A plant is to be erected at Ellwood.

Disappointed in Love.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Clifton E. Greenwade, one of the most prominent young business men in the southern portion of the city, committed suicide during the night by shooting himself through the head. He had been paying attention to a young woman for some time, but recently the friendship between them was apparently ceased which, it is believed, is the cause of the young man taking his life.

To Build Cuban Trolley Lines.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The organization of the Havana & Jainatos Railroad Company for the purpose of building electric railroads in Cuba was completed at a meeting of the stockholders in New York Saturday. The company was organized for $2,500,000. Park & Hamilton of Youngstown secured the contract to build the lines.

Troop Train Kills Farmer.

YORK, PA., Sept. 21.—A. D. Strickler, a wealthy farmer of Stricklers Station, while walking on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, near Wrightsville, this afternoon was struck by a special train and killed instantly. The train was conveying New York troops home from Gettysburg.

AFTER MORE PITTSBURGHERS.

The Naval Recruiting Station Reopens This Morning.

The navy department has been so successful in securing a quality of first-class recruits to man its new battleships, cruisers and torpedo and other boats in this city that the recruiting station will reopen here this morning.

It will again be in charge of Lieutenant Commander John G. Quinby, and will be located in the United States government building. Lieutenant Commander Quinby has in his several details to Pittsburgh succeeded in getting some of the best men ever enlisted for the navy.

SAMUEL BYERLY EXPECTS TO FLY

Plans an Airship Which He Expects to Excel Santos-Dumont.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., Sept. 21.—Samuel Byerly, a carpenter living near Bradenville, thinks he has at last successfully solved the problem of aerial navigation. He claims that his machine will embrace some new ideas.

The motive power will be electricity and here there will be a radical departure from all the previously accepted ideas on propelling power. The machine proper will be constructed principally of aluminum.

The aero-motor will be of oblong shape with wing-like projections or aero planes springing from its sides. It will also be provided with smaller sails at the bow and stern, which, in addition to moving up and down, will be capable of lateral movements.

BOOMS CORTELYOU.

The Rev. M. L. Ganoe of York Believes President's Secretary Competent to Succeed Him.

YORK, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—In the course of a sermon this morning the Rev. M. L. Ganoe, pastor of the First Methodist church of York, announced George B. Cortelyou the most capable man in the nation for president of the United States. Dr. Ganoe said:

"Because of his relations with the late William McKinley and with President Roosevelt, no man in the United States is better fitted to perform the duties of the chief magistrate of this nation than Secretary George B. Cortelyou."

The remark was in connection with men living in proximity to Christ and his church. Dr. Ganoe said that those who dwell close to the great Imitbe their genius and themselves become great.

Strike Rich Quartz Vein.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—As a result of years of prospecting, Elmer and George Galley, Mt. Pleasant boys, have struck it rich in the gold fields of southern California. Several years ago Harry Porter, a cousin of the Galleys, worked for a gold company. He bought a claim near the company's holdings and wrote to his cousins, asking them to join him. They opened up a mine and have unearthed a quartz vein which assays $80 to $90 a ton.

Chance for More Taxes.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The valuation of New Castle property for taxation promises to be very largely increased this year, as a result of the extensive building operations within the last 12 months. The city assessors announce that more than $100,000 increase has been made in the valuation of the Seventh ward, which is the smallest of the city.

PEDAGOGUES VERY SCARCE

Many West Virginia Schools Will Not Be Able to Open This Winter.

MUST RAISE THE SALARIES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 21.—There is a great scarcity of school teachers throughout most of the counties in this state and many schools will not be opened at all this winter.

There is not a county in central West Virginia but where 25 teachers could get schools to teach this coming winter. The term is from four to six months and the salaries range from $33 to $45 per month. A county superintendent says he has watched the matter closely in all the counties in the state and does not know of a single county that has enough teachers to supply the schools.

He gave as a reason for the scarcity of teachers the fact that the pay is too low and that teachers can very easily find other employment that will pay them better wages and steadier work. He said the trouble is getting worse every year and if some solution was not found over half the schools would not have teachers in a year or so.

To Help Open Campaign.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—It is expected that all of the manufacturing establishments in the city will be closed next Saturday to allow the workmen to attend the opening of the Republican state campaign at Akron. A meeting of the Foraker club was held Saturday night to arrange for attending.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.—Fire broke out here Sunday afternoon in the big drygoods store of Hendrickson & Co., and did damage to the amount of $8,000.

BUTLER, PA.—Frank Clark, aged 22, was instantly killed Saturday night at a grade crossing at Mars station on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad, in attempting to cross ahead of one train. Clark stepped in front of another.

BELLEVERNON, PA.—William Weimer died in the lockup Saturday night. He was arrested for drunkenness about 9:30. When Officer Ganoe went to bring him out for a hearing Sunday morning he was dead. Weimer was subject to heart disease.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The Fort Pit Gas Company has just brought in three very large gas wells in a hitherto unproductive field, 9 miles east of this city in Slippery Rock and Scott townships. The gas will be piped to this city. The fires of the Lawrence and Shenango glass factories of this city will be lighted next Tuesday evening and the plants will both begin operation on October 15.

"Their instruments sing like the nightingales." This is the compliment paid the Fadettes Women's orchestra by a delighted New Exposition visitor.

Tonight brilliant Mamie Reuck-Wilczek plays Handel's beautiful "Largo" at the New Exposition, assisted by all the violins of the famous Fadettes.

The Fadettes have created a genuine sensation at the New Exposition. Their engagement positively closes tomorrow night.

The engagement of the Fadettes has proven all too short at the New Exposition. Only two days more will you have the opportunity of hearing them.

The "Fadette habit" certainly has taken strong hold in Pittsburgh, as the enormous crowds at the New Exposition testify. The "Lovely Girls" close their engagement tomorrow night.

War Begun Upon Roosevelt.

There have been intimations that if President Roosevelt persisted in agitating the trust problem powerful interests would be arrayed against him, and that he has been so informed. This has had no effect upon the president, except, perhaps, to incite him to more vigor and directness of speech. There are signs that a vigorous campaign of retaliation has opened. The last number of Harper's Weekly contains an elaborate attack upon the president, conducted with a sustained effort that shows careful deliberation. Not only his utterances but his demeanor are subjected to a censure that moves on point by point until a comprehensive indictment is framed, closing with the remark:

This dashing, reckless, hard-riding, much-conversing president evidently has not the time to prepare the right kind of a speech upon the evils of trusts and the power which the national government ought to exercise for their suppression. And, unless the president ceases to give them the opportunity, people will begin to wonder, when real economic and business problems press for settlement, whether, after all, Mr. Roosevelt is the right kind of a man for the chief magistracy of the nation. This is a contingency upon which he may profitably do a good deal of serious thinking.

The hostile purpose of the article is apparent from the way it perverts the facts to make out its case. Referring to the trust agitation, it says:

The truth is that the president has not uttered a single statesmanlike word on the subject. He has dealt in the vaguest kind of generalities. He speaks of evils without specifying them, and has even seemed to admit that the ills he denounces with his customary vigor are yet to be discovered. He says that he believes that the national legislature can do something more than it has done for the prevention of these mysterious evils, and for the punishment of their responsible authors. But he does not tell us what he conceives to be the direction which legislation should take, or the end which it should seek to accomplish.

The truth is quite the reverse of these statements. The president does tell exactly what direction legislation should take. His views on that matter were clearly stated as long ago as when he was governor of New York and have been frequently reiterated. His plan of dealing with the trusts may be summed up as a policy of publicity and supervision, and all his utterances upon the subject bear the hall-mark of responsible statesmanship. The falsity of the statement on which Harper's Weekly bases its attack conspicuously appears when it is compared with the following extract from President Roosevelt's speech at Providence, August 23:

The mechanism of modern business is as delicate and complicated as it is vast, and nothing would be more productive of evil to all of us, and especially to those least well off in this world's goods, than ignorant meddling with this mechanism—above all, if the meddling were done in a spirit of class or sectional rancor. It is desirable that the power should be possessed by the nation, but it is quite as desirable that the power should be exercised with moderation and self-restraint.

The first exercise of that power should be the securing of publicity among all great corporations doing an interstate business. The publicity, though non-inquisitorial, should be real and thorough as to all important facts with which the public has concern. The full light of day is a great discourager of evil. Such publicity would by itself tend to cure the evils of which there is just complaint, and where the alleged evils are imaginary it would tend to show that such was the case. When publicity was attained it would then be possible to see what further should be done in the way of regulation.

If the article in Harper's Weekly is to be regarded as a portent that systematic opposition is to be offered to the wise and cautious policy outlined by the president, then the interests concerned are making a frightful blunder. If they defeat a conservative policy they will find themselves exposed to the risks of a radical policy.

A Motherless Trust.

Democratic orators still repeat, with parrot-like persistence, the declaration that the tariff is the mother of the trusts. The expression has a catchy sound, and it does not matter to them that it is untrue. They all say it. Senator Cockrell of Missouri, in opening the Democratic campaign in Kansas City, declared that the protective tariff is the mother of trusts, and that the removal of the tariff would destroy them. If this statement be correct, it naturally follows that in countries where there is no protective tariff there are no trusts. If you can find trusts in a free trade country, the Democratic contention that they are produced by a protective tariff must fall to the ground.

On the same day that Senator Cockrell's speech was printed, the London Mail announced that an association of British steel rail manufacturers had been formed, after many months of secret negotiation, to control prices and regulate output. Eight of the principal rail manufacturers of England are included in the new combination, which has a capitalization estimated at $60,000,000. This trust was formed in free trade England, not in protective America. It is not the only trust in Great Britain, as the British Trades Union congress took pains to point out. It must be a motherless trust, however, if Senator Cockrell and his fellow Democratic spellbinders are right, and there are many orphans of a similar character in England.

An Honest Candidate.

Judge Pennypacker's Pittsburgh speech has created widespread comment of the most favorable kind. Its candor, its absolute freedom from the usual hackneyed style of political utterance are in themselves sufficient to arrest attention. There is throughout the speech evidence of the calm, judicial mind brought to bear upon questions of government with honesty and frankness. The speech completely knocks the props from under those critics of Judge Pennypacker's candidacy who have declared in season and out of season that he was an "owned" candidate and would only speak what his bosses dictated. He demonstrated in Pittsburgh that he is anything else than a trimmer. He might have played to the galleries, but he didn't. He might have reserved an opinion as to ripper legislation for some interior and remote city. But instead he frankly and calmly stated a principle in which the local situation is deeply involved with all the courage and honesty of a perfectly well-balanced mind. His grasp of the principles of right government is fundamental and not prearranged to meet partisan emergency. If he had been merely a "political candidate" his reference to the local situation might have been smothered in rhetorical verbiage. But Judge Pennypacker is not that kind of man. He does not deal in merely surface conditions nor stop to pick flaws or throw flowers to please the fancy of the momentary listener. His discussion of the laws of government is founded upon a profound acquaintance with their fundamental principles.

The speech has quickened popular esteem for this sturdy scholar and honest patriot. It has utterly and absolutely confounded his mistaken opponents who believed that he was afraid to speak his own mind.

Overcrowding the Transvaal.

Johannesburg, one of the principal cities of the former Dutch republic in South Africa, is reported to be in a bad state of distress due to overpopulation. Reports from several other sections of the Transvaal country indicate an overplus of immigration and consequent suffering by reason of the inability of the country to support so large an addition to the native population. The trouble seems to have been the result of injudicious haste on the part of the English and Dutch immigrants who wanted to be on the ground immediately upon the close of the war in that country in order to share in the prosperity that is so confidently predicted will come to the Boer republics. But the people have not yet had time to recover from the devastation of a two years' war. Their fields lie in desolation. Driven from the rural districts by the hardships and deprivations incident to the occupation of a hostile army, the people have crowded into the towns and all the avenues of livelihood have been filled up. When the immigrant reaches Johannesburg or any one of the larger Transvaal cities he not only finds no means of earning a living, but finds also that prices for everything, including rent, board and the necessities of life are abnormally high. Small four-room cottages rent for $100 per month. Board ranges from $40 to $75 per month for a single person, and all the comforts and necessaries of life are correspondingly high.

There is undoubtedly ground for the conviction that there will be an era of great prosperity in the Transvaal following the disastrous war period. Her rich mineral deposits and splendid agricultural possibilities under the fostering care of peace and the new bonds of comity established between England and her African colonies will act as a spur to investment. But these prospects are not going to be realized all at once, hence the warning that has been sent out from Johannesburg that for the present the Transvaal has quite all the people it can conveniently take care of.

Another Arctic Expedition.

The Peary Arctic expedition is being followed back to civilization by the one commanded by Capt. Otto Sverdrup, who went to the polar regions with the steamer Fram in 1898. There is as yet a lack of detail concerning the work of the Sverdrup expedition, but it is not likely that it was any more successful than that commanded by Peary.

A member of a former exploring expedition declares Lieut. Peary has added invaluable material to the annals of science, and asserts that a man is just as safe in the Arctic ice fields as he would be in New York. It is probable there have been some valuable contributions to science by the latest Arctic researches, but the benefit to humanity is not very great. As to the danger being no greater in the Arctic ice fields than in New York, that is as you please. Lower Broadway is a quite strenuous district, where a good many things not related to icebergs have to be dodged. Then there is the Bowery and the East Side, dangerous enough under certain circumstances, not to mention exploding subways, collapsing buildings or a few other things incidental to metropolitan existence. Danger lurks everywhere, but the man who sees the elephant or seeks the tiger in his New York lair has a warmer time of it than the Arctic explorer who wastes time and money, if not life in search of scientific truths of not much practical use.

Improvement in Prisons.

An interesting experiment has been in progress for more than a year in the Cook county jail, Chicago, the object being the moral improvement of the prisoners. The results thus far have surpassed the expectations of the promoters, and in a paper which has been established under their auspices at the jail there is a very encouraging statement of the good that has been accomplished and of the prospect for still greater achievement.

A society known as the John L. Whitman Moral Improvement association has been organized by the prisoners, and the paper above referred to is written, edited and published by them. A library has been established in the prison, a night school and a day school have been started as auxiliaries. As a result of these efforts at improvement the moral and sanitary conditions in the prison are far in advance of what they were at any previous time in the history of the jail. There is a steady increase in attendance at the religious services held on Sunday mornings. The movement was started by John L. Whitman, a humanitarian, in April, 1901, and the success which has followed is an encouragement to other philanthropists to follow his example.

Mystery in a Murder.

Murder is so common these days as to call for little comment, but the case over which the New York police is just now puzzling is marked by some rather unusual and mysterious features. The detectives declare that they have collected sufficient evidence to fasten the murder of Mrs. Pulitzer, whose dead body was found weighted down in the Morris canal, near Hoboken, last week, upon Hooper Young, a grandson of Brigham Young, the famous Mormon apostle. This claim seems to be well founded and the receipt by the police of a note from the alleged murderer in which he declares his purpose to commit suicide adds another convincing link in the chain of evidence secured against him. But with all the effort that has been expended upon the case no consistent theory of motive has been evolved, and this phase of the crime is the feature that is most baffling. It has been stated that robbery was the real motive. That Young was hard up and lured the woman to his room because he had noticed that she wore seemingly valuable jewels. But the proof fails to substantiate the theory for the reason that Mrs. Pulitzer did not have on the jewels the night that she disappeared.

One theory after another has been abandoned until the case now stands as one of the most baffling and mysterious crimes of recent record. It is clear from all the evidence accumulated that Young is a moral degenerate, and expert opinion is fast coming to the conclusion that the brutal killing of Mrs. Pulitzer was but another one of those strange and fiendish manifestations of sheer brutality that seize the hopelessly depraved victims of moral degeneracy.

RIVER BARRIER WILL DISAPPEAR

Tunnel Transfer in Store for Railroad Passengers to New York City.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.

If all the plans for improving the railroad facilities of New York are carried out, there will be no other city in the country better provided in this respect. Pittsburghers going to New York over any of the railroads whose terminals are in Jersey City or Hoboken, know to their sorrow what an inconvenient thing is the ferryboat ride at the end of the railroad journey. Particularly is this true in the winter. That there will be tunnels under the Hudson in due course is conceded. Now there is a project to connect with a tunnel in Jersey City the three terminals of the Erie, Pennsylvania railroad and Central Railroad of New Jersey. These depots are several miles apart, and to get from one to the other involves a street car trip over a great many streets by a roundabout route. The purpose is to connect them by a tunnel, so that a few minutes' ride will take one direct from one to either of the others. When the Pennsylvania has built its tunnel under the river, to take its passengers to the terminus which will be established in Manhattan uptown, it will be a convenience for patrons of other roads to get to the Pennsylvania by means of the Jersey City tunnel and alighting at the terminus of that road on this side. There are many details in this scheme which have not been set forth yet, but it is understood that if it is carried out it will do away with much of the old inconvenience to passengers from the west in being dropped from trains in Jersey City to make their way to New York by ferryboat, with all the trouble that that implies. Articles of incorporation have been filed at Trenton, N. J., by the Hudson & Manhattan Railway Company, and the capitalization is placed at $100,000. That sum, of course, is merely nominal, but it may be increased at any time to the millions which will be demanded for the work. The main thing, so far as the public is concerned, is that there is a determined movement afoot to give all the conveniences in travel possible. New York is too big to be handicapped by railroad approaches that would not be tolerated in a fourth-class city.

Few Birds of Passage.

Passenger lists are very short for all the Atlantic liners these days, particularly going from New York. Only a few Pittsburghers are traveling to Europe, and most of them go only on particular business. On the popular Cunarder Umbria, for instance, there was only one Pittsburgher when she sailed yesterday. He is J. B. Carter. Weather on the Atlantic has begun to be ugly and all kinds of tales of hurricanes and other unpleasantnesses are reported by persons arriving at this port.

Summer Lingers at Coney.

Coney Island dies hard. Although the season is virtually over, there are a number of showmen and restaurant keepers who will not admit that the charms of the place disappear before the first heavy frost. Today the attendance at old Coney was large enough to warrant business men of the place in believing that their harvest is not yet over. It has not been a specially profitable summer, on account of the chilly weather; but there is hope that it will last long enough to compensate for the coolness in July and August. After so much rain as we have had for the last few days, Sunday holiday-makers were in a desperate frame of mind today, and trainloads of them determined to go to the island, no matter what the conditions might be. It was not the kind of weather in which one would care to sleep on the beach, as is done by thousands in the dog days on a Sunday night, so there was a general hurry to the cars in good season, and everyone got home. That cannot be said very often in the middle of summer.

Rival Animal Shows.

There may be a battle of lion-trainers in New York next month. Frank C. Bostock, whose control of wild creatures has won for him the title of "animal king," will open his big exhibition of lions, tigers, camels and birds of all descriptions at St. Nicholas garden on October 2, and he may have as business opposition Hagenbeck's menagerie at the New York. I do not know whether Hagenbeck is coming or not, but I do know that Bostock promises to be here. Startling pictures of his 50 forest-bred lions and other zoological wonders have already broken out in various places in town, and H. C. Schwab, the former Pittsburgh amusement manager, who is interested in the entertainment, tells me it will be simply wonderful. Bostock has supplied many animals for collections in Pittsburgh, and is well known to a great many Pittsburghers. It is possible that he will bring his show to Pittsburgh some time.

Knox Cool in Face of Peril.

Attorney General Knox has plenty of nerve. He has shown that on more than one occasion of late, and it is generally admitted that he is a good man to have around when there is likely to be dangerous excitement of any kind. He was one of the few passengers on the American liner St. Paul that knew there was a fire on board when it might have been serious but for the splendid discipline prevailing on the vessel. As it was the distinguished Pittsburgher, with Col. T. P. Ochiltree, chatted and behaved as if there were nothing to cause apprehension, and their example had much influence with quieting other less self-controlled passengers. As it happened, the fire was put out without material damage, and the attorney general thought so little about it that he would not discuss the matter when he arrived in New York yesterday.

Lipton to Cable His Challenge.

Yachtsmen here are anxiously awaiting the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton for a series of races for the America's cup. It was thought that the challenge would come on the Cunard liner, Etruria, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday. It is said, however, that the instrument is not on board that ship, but will be cabled over. Sir Thomas likes quick action, and probably thinks that even an ocean greyhound is not speedy enough to carry his gauge across the Atlantic. And yet there is plenty of time if the race is not to take place until next year.

Italians' Fourth of July.

In this cosmopolitan city all kinds of celebrations take place in different quarters without any particular notice being taken by persons not immediately interested. For instance, Italian societies had a parade yesterday in celebration of the thirty-second anniversary of Italian unification. It mattered little to native Americans, but was a big thing for Italian New Yorkers. Nearly 12,000 men were in line, and Mayor Low viewed the marchers from a stand in Washington square with Mayor Dos Pranches, Italian ambassador to the United States, by his side. All through the East Side went the procession, while West Siders and Broadwayites were in blissful ignorance of anything unusual. It was all strikingly characteristic of a great community where self-concentration seems to be ingrained.

Coal Strike Raises Rents.

High-priced coal means high-priced flats this winter. Most flats in this city are heated by steam, and landlords say that they cannot afford to pay for coal to generate steam without raising the rents. About $2.50 a month all around is the increase in Harlem and other residence districts, and people are glad it is no worse. The unpleasant feature of this raising of rents is that it will be hard to get them down again when the anthracite strike is over. That is the sentiment of the average flat-dweller, and it looks reasonable, although landlords say they will be only too glad to drop the rents when coal is cheaper. After all the invincible law of supply and demand governs the rentals of flats, as it does every other commercial transaction. There are landlords today who are glad to give a month's tenancy free, with a reasonable rent thereafter, to the right kind of applicant. We have been able to live in New York other winters, and, doubtless, it will not be much harder this winter, so far as rents are concerned.

Justice Slow but Inexorable.

One way to reform the New York police department is to "break" unfit policemen one by one. A Brooklyn patrolman named Doherty was turned out of the force today for brutally clubbing a young secret service detective last summer. It takes a long time to bring a policeman to justice in Greater New York, but it is possible at last, under the present reform administration. The detective, who is only 19 years of age, was sleuthing a gang of counterfeiters when he was arrested by Doherty, and, in the course of the proceedings, the policeman beat a tattoo upon the detective's head with his heavy nightstick. Doherty is out of a job now, and the opinion of those that know the particulars of the case is that it is a good thing for the department.

Resort Keepers' Rocky Road.

Ackron, who used to manage the notorious Tivoli, in West Thirty-fifth street, just around the corner from the Herald Square theater, finds it hard to keep out of the police court. Ackron has a reputation as a "rough-house" man, and it was because so many persons had been beaten in the Tivoli that the resort was closed by the police. Askron was defendant in a Brooklyn court yesterday on a charge of assault. He admitted that he had nearly "knocked the block off" a man, but pleaded self-defense, and was discharged. It is good for Ackron that it did not happen in the Tenderloin, where his record might have told against him.

Judge Steiner's Death.

Judge J. H. Steiner, who died yesterday, was one of the best known men in New York. He had for many years presided at the Eighth district municipal court, in the Grand opera house building at Twenty-third street and Eighth avenue, and had listened to more tales of domestic trouble than any other judge in town. That particular court, which is in Devery's Ninth district, is in the center of a residence community, and the cases before Judge Steiner always had some pertinent remark to make to the parties to suits, and usually the remarks would be full of shrewd wit and kindly suggestion. His death is a loss to a very large number of people in this city.

An Interesting Couple.

Brander Matthews, the college professor, literateur and playwright, came to New York on the Lucania yesterday. The professor is one of New York's interesting men, in that he writes and talks with equal charm. He had been away for some months on a pleasure trip, and has returned to take up his duties at Columbia university. In the intervals of turning out plays, books and magazine articles. In the matronly-looking woman who has been Mrs. Matthews for many years it was hard yesterday to recognize the Ada Harland of former days, one of the most brilliant of the beautiful English girls brought over by Lydia Thompson to entrance an older generation than the present.

Anti-Gambling Raid Due.

In the excitement of other things the eye of the public here has been taken off gambling houses, policy shops and similar institutions. It may be that there are not many of them in operation, but an old New Yorker told me last night that there were more games running now than he had known for years, while policy-writing is rampant all over the city. If this is true, there will be a raid next week, most likely. That is the common procedure here—to wait till the gamblers are lulled into false security. This system may not be conducive to public morals particularly, but it gives lots of fun to the police.

Republican Leaders in Good Spirits.

Senator Platt and other big Republican guns are in Saratoga. They went yesterday afternoon. Notwithstanding that this is Sunday, it was the intention to have a thorough discussion of the platform and ticket to be nominated at the state convention. When the party started yesterday afternoon everybody seemed to be in good humor. It was explained by one well-known delegate that the reason was that success is assured for the Republican state ticket. And, when you come to think of it, such a conviction should be enough to put any set of men in high spirits.

Another Stride Forward Made Yesterday by The Sunday Gazette

Another step in the progress of The Sunday Gazette was marked yesterday and the latest comer into Pittsburgh newspaperdom took a little bigger lead over its competitors in the race for public favor. While there was perhaps no special feature that stood out above the rest of the reading in its 48 pages, it was a model as a well balanced, readable Sunday paper, full of short, terse news items and special articles and stories that interested everyone.

Every department of local news was crowded and the happenings in Europe and the rest of the world were chronicled in a way that only The Gazette, with its unrivaled special wire and cable service, can do. In make-up and general appearance it was, as usual, beyond any comparison with the other Pittsburgh papers.

The special features, that do so much to make a Sunday paper popular, because they appeal to the most varied minds and everyone can find much of interest in them, kept up to the former high standard, and that means that they were as good as any in the country. The women's pages, theatrical gossip, book lovers' review, the society summaries, sporting gossip and the regular departments were full of interesting chat.

The markets and financial reviews, both national and local, were compiled with that accurate care which has made them the standard for Pittsburgh investors and business men and fully covered their fields.

Among the magazine features were the concluding chapters of "The Hound of the Baskervilles," by Sir A. Conan Doyle; special stories by J. Edgar Lyons, William A. Crozier, Sterling Heilig, Frank McClure, Helen Lukens Jones, T. Reynolds Williams and other writers, who are making the modern Sunday newspaper a gold mine of interesting reading.

The "Coon Hollow Folks" were there, too, and their antics at the Exposition caused shouts from young and old in many a home, while "Simple Simon" and those other funny people who have helped make The Sunday Gazette famous were all on hand, each with some new and original stunt. "The Kid Engineer," another of Frank Spearman's railroad stories, and the second installment of the "Autobiography of an Office Boy," by Roy L. McCardell, were popular features of this section.

Last, but not least, came a beautiful picture of Pittsburgh's greatest actress, Lulu Glaser, in the costume of "Dolly Varden," which she is now playing at the Victoria theater in New York. Miss Glaser's admirers in Pittsburgh are numbered as legions, and no art supplement could have proven more popular with Gazette readers.

THE QUAKER CITY 200 YEARS AGO

The Sort of Place It Was and How the People Dressed and Acted.

Philadelphia two centuries ago was different, as may be easily imagined, and the Philadelphians of this day would be much amused could they take a peep at the Philadelphians of that period in their daily routine. The Record pictures the old-time Philadelphia, thinly distributed over the territory south of Vine and South streets, between the Delaware and the Schuylkill, with now forgotten streams meandering here and there to a junction with the big rivers. But more interesting than this is the picture of the people, who were of two kinds, tradesmen and gentlemen. Philadelphia was an aristocratic town, and between the tradesmen and the gentlemen a gulf lay. Dress indicated this. The tradesmen wore a leather apron and leather breeches, but the gentlemen dressed more gayly than a woman does today. His wig was long and curled, hiding his ears, and his hat was cocked. His coat, which was made of broadcloth, had huge cuffs that came up to the elbow; the sleeves were very short, so as to show the pleated sleeves and lace ruffles of the shirt, and the coat's long skirts flared out and were stiffened with buckram. He wore a stock of cambric, with a silver buckle at the back of the neck, and the coat collar was cut low in order that the buckle might be seen. The shirt was pleated, like the dueling shirts that Actor Hackett wears, and its long lace ruffles fell over the hand to the finger tips. The waistcoat, of scarlet or pale blue, was as long as the coat. The breeches were tight, with silver or paste buckles at the knee, and the stockings were of silk or worsted. The shoes were low, and silver buckles ornamented them at the instep. Men's clothes were made of broadcloth in the winter and of silk camlet in the summer. The young bloods wore swords.

In the winter men carried muffees. These were little woolen muffs that the ladies knitted; the hands were thrust into them to the wrists.

Women Big from Waist Down.

The women dressed so as to appear very big from the waist down. They wore six or seven petticoats and hoops of great circumference. They powdered their hair and built it up into a kind of tower on the top of the head. A popular bonnet among them was woven of black horsehair—like the haircloth used in upholstery 80 years ago—and decorated with artificial roses. The stays were very long, and the skirt was often cut out in front to show the petticoat of quilted silk beneath it.

The men took an interest in the women's clothes, and when a fashion arose that they disliked they went to extreme measures to kill it. Thus, when the "trollopee" came into vogue the men persuaded the wife of the town hangman to wear a "trollopee," and thereafter the ladies would have none of it. Another time the women were adopting scarlet cloaks, but the men got a murderess to go to her death attired in one, and that fashion also died.

The Quakers did not dress so elaborately as the other townspeople. The colors of their costumes were subdued and the cut was plainer and more modest. Thus the gentleman's breeches were very loose, whereas those of a gentleman of the gay world were tight. A Quaker wore no sword.

Houses had no carpets in those distant days. The floors were sanded and the walls whitewashed. In the living room there would be a great fireplace, with a broad mantel over it, a settee, a chest of drawers or "high-boy," wherein the Sunday clothes of the family were folded, a corner cupboard for the china, some wooden chairs and a big table.

Everyone Kissed the Bride.

Amusements were of a simple and coarse kind. Dancing was practically unknown. At wedding feasts a great deal of punch was consumed and every one had the privilege of kissing the bride. Men were no fonder of kissing young and pretty women than they are now, only kissing was a privilege that they could exercise then as freely as they now shake hands. A belle wrote in her diary in 1791: "One hates to be always kissed, especially as it is attended by so many inconveniences. It discomposes the economy of one's neckerchief, disorders one's high roll and ruffles the serenity of one's countenance." A man in those days, flushed and happy with punch, would take a young woman's face in his hands and kiss her red mouth, and those who were present would think he had done perfectly right.

Many love letters have come down to this generation, and one written by Elias Keach—a "very wild spark"—began in this manner: "That the silver stream of my dearest affection and faithful love will be willingly received into the mill pond of your tender virgin heart, by your wailing up the floodgate of your virtuous love and affection which will completely turn the wheels of your gracious will and understanding to receive the golden grains ——" and so on, for page after page.

The Carriages Were Chairs.

There was not much ceremony practiced among the people. Not more than half a dozen families had carriages, and most of these were "chairs," plain vehicles, without springs. Everyone went to bed at 9 o'clock and arose at daybreak. There was a watchman "to go around ye town with a small bell in ye night time, to give notice of ye time of night and ye weather, and if anie disorders or dangers happen by fire or otherwise to acquaint the constables thereof."

PERSONALS.

"The coffee crop this year will be far below the general average," said R. E. Forney, a representative of one of the large coffee importing houses of New York. Mr. Forney was passing through the city in Chicago last night only having lately come from Brazil. "The frosts have been unusually heavy in Brazil. Many of the blossoms have fallen off and the leaves turned black. The season has been the worst in 20 years, and had it not been for the prolific yields of the last two years and the surplus stock held in this country, there would have been a large advance in the price of the aromatic bean. One firm that I know of in New York has held over from the past two seasons over 2,000,000 bags. However, I expect to see an advance in coffee before the close of next month."

"If I am successful in securing a suitable location we will open a sales office of our company in Pittsburgh," remarked J. W. Leech of the Keystone Electrical Company of Erie at the Hotel Griswold last night. "Our plant is one of the largest of its kind in Erie and gives employment to over 200 men. The company has lately purchased five acres of land adjoining the present plant, and will extend the works. When the extension is completed about 500 men will be given employment. The plant is thoroughly equipped with all modern machinery, as will be the new extension. I hope to secure quarters in the central part of the city for our proposed offices."

N. F. Dominques of Philadelphia, a native of Cuba, at present engaged in the tobacco business in this country, passed through the city to the west last night. "The leading people of Cuba," he said, "want the island annexed to the United States as soon as possible. It is only the ignorant classes that object to annexation. The tobacco crop is excellent this year, and has nearly all been bought up by American dealers."

G. W. DeCamp of Emporium, Kan., is at the Seventh Avenue hotel. Twenty-five years ago he was one of Pittsburgh's well known lawyers. He is here visiting friends. At present he is engaged in business with his son in Emporium. Mr. DeCamp is over 80 years of age.

C. F. Peddrick, a shirt manufacturer of Philadelphia, is at the Monongahela house. "Shirt patterns," he said, "are changing annually. From the loud stripes and glowing colors of a year ago the patterns are now neat and genteel, and the result is much handsomer shirts."

A party of 40 structural iron workers of the Marshall-McClintock Construction Company went east last night. One half of them will go to Coatesville and the other half to Conshohocken to put up two large industrial plants.

The New York and Chicago limited pulled into Union station last night 45 minutes late. A heavy freight train was broken near Greensburg by a drawhead on one of the cars pulling out, thus delaying the limited.

Postmaster General Henry C. Payne passed through Pittsburgh to Chicago last night.

EDITORIAL ODDS AND ENDS.

Now doth the county fair get in its work and the people of the rural regions, attired in purple and fine linen, are seeing the sights and cutting funny capers. Incidentally, it may be stated that the soft-veiled grafter is in their midst.—Bradford Era.

Once more that big-hearted and all round good fellow, Conductor John V. Conley of Buffalo, has placed the writer and family under obligations for his annual consignment of luscious pears. The annual present from Mr. Conley has been coming to us so long and regularly that we have about began to look upon it as one of the things that is to be. Thanks, J. V., thanks.—East Emporium Independent.

The Stentinel office was jolted out of its normal condition of quiet on last Monday by the presentation to it by Miss Rebbecca McDonough of West Brownsville of a huge tomato, which tipped the beam at one pound and ten ounces. The huge love-apple graced the office for some time, during which it was admired by countless visitors, and would doubtless have been stolen bodily could it have been taken through the door without trouble.—California Sentinel.

The writer has just returned from a stay of two weeks at Atlantic City. This is a delightful place, but a man hates like sin to be obliged to pay for the air he uses in breathing. We succeeded in bringing back the clothes we wore upon our arrival, but that's all. The million dollars we took with us was all used in buying orange juice, dallying with the merry-go-round, playing hide and go seek with the hackmen, monkeying with the flip-flap railroad and tipping everybody who bade us the time of day. Yes, Atlantic City is a great place and if Andrew Carnegie really wants to die poor let him take up his residence in that city.—Blairsville Courier.

MOVEABLE SEAT ON THE SIDEWALK

Two Pedestrians Greatly Surprised by Whol

LOCAL NEWS OF ALL PITTSBURGH

Revolver Carriers Held—John Duchalk and Tanazio Voccaro were held for court at a hearing at the Central police station yesterday morning. Revolvers were found on them when arrested the previous night, and Inspector Fred Will made information against them for carrying concealed weapons.

Each One Had a Bottle—Two hundred Poles brought 200 bottles of whisky to a dance at the Sharpsburg town hall on Saturday night. Policemen Toner and Wallace had the entire gathering to contend with in trying to arrest four fighters, but succeeded in capturing them and a man who pulled a revolver. The dance was stopped.

Small Fires in Allegheny—Allegheny had two small fires yesterday, neither of which caused much damage. At 7:20 a. m. there was a blaze on the roof of the house of Andrew Hayden, in Shady avenue, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon there was a fire in the Pittsburgh & Western railroad yards, near Grant street. A car of hay was set ablaze in some way.

Had No Medical Attention—E. Mosky of No. 315 Harmon street, 35 years old, died suddenly at home yesterday morning shortly after 6 o'clock from lack of medical attention. He was a laborer and on Saturday night he complained of pains in his chest. He did not seem to suffer greatly during the night, but was found dead at 6 o'clock. Coroner's Physician Walter E. McCandless said the man had died of congestion of the lungs.

Two Diamond Rings Stolen—Miss Mary Wagner, an employe of George Lorch & Co., of Seventeenth and Carson streets, South Side, reported the theft of two diamond rings, valued at $200, to the South Side police last night. She said that she had placed the rings under the counter of the store while waiting on some customers. When she returned for the rings a few minutes later they were missing.

Death Was Accidental—Deputy Coroner William J. Campbell held an inquest at Glendale yesterday in the death of Jacob Kowalesky, a miner, who was killed by a live electric wire on Saturday afternoon in the Carnegie Coal Company mine at that place. He entered an unused room, which it was said he had no business to do, and was electrocuted. A verdict of accidental death was found. He was 35 years old and single.

Struck by Fast Freight—George Gumbert, 34 years old, a track walker for the Union Railroad Company, had one foot severed and his skull fractured by being struck by a fast freight at Spring station yesterday morning. Gumbert was attending his duty at the time and had stepped off one track to avoid a train, only to be struck by the other. He was taken to the Mercy hospital. Gumbert is an Italian, residing in Duquesne, where he has a wife and family.

Fires Look Suspicious—Pittsburgh & Western railway officials are investigating two suspicious fires which occurred in the company's yards near Grant street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. At 4 o'clock a car filled with baled hay was found to be afire and an alarm was turned in from box 39, the fire being extinguished without much loss. Just two hours later another car standing near and filled with straw was discovered ablaze and another alarm from the same box was turned in and the fire checked again. The fires appear to be of incendiary origin, although the first was not considered suspicious. A close watch was kept last night over the cars in the vicinity.

Two Small Fires—A still alarm was sent in to Engine Company No. 30 last evening about 10 o'clock for a fire in Jeremy's restaurant in Smithfield street. The fire started behind a new boiler which has been recently installed and for a time it looked as though the fire was going to prove very disastrous, as it was behind the walls and to get to it the firemen had to cut through the walls. The fire started on the first floor and eat its way to the cellar and to the second floor, and two streams and babcocks had to be used. The loss was about $300 and is fully insured. An alarm of fire from box 661 at 8:45 o'clock yesterday morning was caused by a small blaze at the home of S. H. Lloyd on Alder street. The loss amounted to about $25.

EXPECT TO FIND YOUNG'S CORPSE

POLICE HAVE NEW CLUE IN PULITZER CASE.

Supposed Murderer Said to Have Been Chased Through Streets of Brooklyn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The search for William Hooper Young, wanted for the murder of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, whose mutilated body was found floating in the abandoned Morris canal, near Jersey City, Thursday morning last, has, up to a late hour, been unavailing.

The chief development of the day came from Brooklyn and it leads the police to believe that the fugitive has escaped to the vicinity of Canarsie, L. I. Capt. Titus of the detective bureau is inclined to believe that Young, finding all avenues of final escape shut off, has fled to this spot on the Long Island coast to commit suicide. The captain ordered a special force of detectives to Canarsie to search the neighborhood.

The story of this clue is that late Saturday night a man supposed to have been Young was seen in a lodging house in Brooklyn. When he applied for a room he was told there was none vacant, and he was forced to be satisfied with a chair. Soon afterward he became nervous and arose to his feet. Some of those in the room arose simultaneously. Then the stranger dashed down the back stairs of the hotel to the yard, with some of the lodgers after him. Vaulting the back fence, closely pursued, the fugitive fled up the street. The pursuers gaining upon him, the stranger halted, drew a revolver and brought the lodgers to a stand. Turning again, he caught sight of a Nostrand avenue car bound for Fulton street and raced for it. Before the lodgers came up the car with the fugitive on board was blocks away.

The above story was told Capt. Titus early today and this evening he learned that at 3:30 o'clock in the morning a man resembling Young had been seen in Canarsie. Capt. Titus' informant told him that the man looked fatigued and almost exhausted. The captain added that Police Captain Short of Canarsie and all his force were scouring the country for the man. The captain said, however, that he feared they would succeed only in case the man were really Young in finding his dead body, as he is of the impression Young would commit suicide.

IN THE OIL FIELDS

The Keener sand oil pool, in Ritchie county, W. Va., last week maintained its place as the leading attraction in the lower southwest. In the early part of the week interest was centered, principally, in the fluctuation of the daily production of the pool on Big Knot run. At the close, however, a new well was drilled in that was of more than passing interest. It is the property of the Three Joes Oil Company and is this company's first test on the M. L. Correll farm, located 550 feet southwest of the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the Morgan-Hemsworth farm. The well was only drilled to the top of the pay and then shut down. It enlarges the producing area of the pool and this of itself is of much importance.

Ritchie county is the only locality at this time in the lower southwest that is increasing its production. The increase is derived from the Keener sand principally. The salt sand discovery on the South Fork of Hughes river is no longer formidable. In the last-named district another well was completed during the week and the result was a 10-barrel pumper.

The action of the Keener sand development may be regarded as meteoric, as is already in evidence by the way the old wells decline and need touching up with high explosive fluid to keep them producing at the maximum of their capacity. Two of the most active companies, the Mallory Bros. and the Three Joes Oil Company, have now an average daily production of 900 and 800 barrels a day respectively.

Gordon Discovery in Wetzel.

The most important Gordon discovery of the week was the Delmar Oil Company and Greenlee's strike on the Alva J. Ice farm, located on the east side and in advance of the lower end of the Folsom district, in Wetzel county. The well started to flow at the rate of 20 barrels an hour and rounded out the week by producing 225 barrels a day.

In the past developments have been conducted on a narrow northeast and southwest line, but the new well on the Ice farm shows a widening of the belt and opens up new opportunities outside of previously defined limits. Inside of defined limits some very good producers were completed by the South Penn Oil Company. However the production of the Folsom district is not increasing at this time. It is quite probable that operations will show a falling off for the reason that the South Penn company has complied with one of the stipulations in the lease when it secured the Big Robinson tract, calling for the completion of 20 wells by September 20.

In the north end of the Pine Grove district, and heading in the direction of Jennings Bros.' good producer on the Sidel farm, the South Penn Oil Company drilled in a 150-barrel producer on the Sidel farm. This and the Sidel farm well opens up some new Gordon sand territory that looks very promising.

Nothing new has developed in the vicinity of the Big Injun sand producer on the Francis farm, on Fullen Timber run. The initial well is helping up at about 200 barrels a day and shows that it has something back of it in the way of protective territory. The new work now starting will be a fairly good test for the surrounding territory.

Talent Guessing in Harrison.

On Grass run, Harrison county, the talent is guessing. The late wells have nearly all come in small producers or worse still, dusters. The Vanvoorhis & Park's producer on the G. W. Williams farm holds up at 500 barrels a day and is now the best well in the country. This district shows more work under way and starting than any other in Harrison county.

Northeast of the fifth sand development, on Indian run, Gilmer county, the South Penn drilled in a well on the C. F. Mick farm that is producing 35 barrels a day from the lower formation.

In the Yellow Creek district, in Calhoun county, operators are finding some very fair producers in the Berea grit. The Yellow Creek Oil Company completed its No. 4 on the Bennett heirs' farm and got a producer good for 130 barrels a day. The best feature of the wells in the Berea formation is their lasting qualities. After they settle down to their normal production they are very steady in their production and do not vary for months and need very little attention.

Operators in the shallow sand districts in Southeastern Ohio are very busy. All things considered the results attained are quite satisfactory. This may seem strange when it is stated that for almost every producer two dry holes are completed. But the statement does not seem to be so much overdrawn when the cost of drilling in this territory is taken into account.

There is scarcely any outlay unless the well proves a producer. The actual cost of drilling—85 cents a foot—is all. Nothing but drilling machines are used in putting down shallow wells. The construction of the regulation rig, costing nearly $500, is not necessary. Then a dry hole at a depth of from 150 to 400 feet is a very different thing from one of the same kind at a depth of 3,000 feet, as is the case on the West Virginia side in the deep sand drilling. To the operator of small means the shallow sand territory holds out special inducements.

South of Knoxville, Jefferson county, there is a new development that shows some life. A test well was drilled in on the Warren farm, located a half mile in advance, that makes an extension in that direction look promising.

This Buffet Will Interest You

No wonder people are coming to regard the purchase of new furniture as a sort of duty. The new styles are so manifestly superior to the old that every family that has a pride in the appearance of the home realizes the necessity for the improvement of the furnishment.

Such persons always maintain that the dining room is entitled to especial consideration.

For the benefit of all such customers the Buffet pictured above is here briefly described. It is a very impressive style and cannot but win your good opinion the moment you see it:

Made of quartered golden oak, 64 inches wide by 62 inches high; glass cabinet, leaded doors and sides; bevel French plate mirror.

The advantage of coming to this establishment is, primarily, that this is a store of many styles—and all are distinctly high class. Besides, every style here is confined to

NEW STATION IS PROMISED FOR EAST LIBERTY

James McCrea Says It Is Now Being Planned by the Pennsylvania.

CATHEDRAL RUMOR IS GIVEN QUIETUS

No New Passenger Terminal There Is Being Considered. East End Improvements Are Extensive, Involving Millions.

James McCrea, director of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, announced yesterday that the Pennsylvania railroad has plans in course of preparation for a splendid new passenger station in East Liberty; also that plans are being made for a great new station in Allegheny, to take the place of the present Ft. Wayne and the West Penn station. Mr. McCrea would say nothing of the details of the new terminal plans in the East End, but his is the first authoritative statement that the company is to go ahead with this improvement, which was exclusively announced in The Gazette some time ago.

In connection with this Mr. McCrea entered a positive denial that the Pennsylvania has purchased or optioned the block of property, bounded by Fifth avenue, Grant street, Sixth avenue and Cherry alley, now owned practically in its entirety by Henry C. Frick. The report was printed yesterday, along with the statement that the Pennsylvania was buying other property, to bring its passenger terminals nearer the center of business traffic, by erecting a new station on the site of St. Paul's cathedral.

An Authuritative Denial.

To avoid any misunderstanding Mr. McCrea noted the following inquiry of a reporter of The Gazette:

"Mr. McCrea, I have called to ask you if you have seen the story in a morning paper in regard to a new passenger station on the cathedral property, and if such a scheme is contemplated?" To this he replied:

"Yes, sir, I have read the story. It is well written and quite interesting, but nothing of the kind has been considered. We have just completed the new Union station at a very large cost and have no thoughts of any further extension of our passenger facilities in Pittsburgh.

"Plans are in the course of preparation for a new station in Allegheny and at East Liberty, but they are not completed, and I can say nothing further about them than to merely state the fact."

Property Being Secured.

Asked to say something as to the location and scope of the new passenger station for East Liberty, Mr. McCrea called attention to his closing statement and said that there was nothing to add at this time.

The Pennsylvania has bought and is buying much property in a dozen or more blocks, extending from Maryland avenue to its stock yards and Fifth avenue station property in the East End. The railroad owns the Sacred Heart church property, north of its present tracks and at the west end of the seat of more recent purchases, and it is reported that the plans contemplate a cut-off, which will obviate the long curve from near Roup station to the Fifth avenue station. The purchases are scattered along Parker street, Maryland avenue and other streets in the neighborhood of the Sacred Heart church, and other purchases are reported along Emerson, Shakespeare and other streets, nearer to the East Liberty stock yard property.

Many Millions to Be Spent.

In all, the plans of the Pennsylvania in the East End contemplate the expenditure of many millions of dollars. Part of this is for the cut-off or East End belt line, which from the Fifth avenue station will run past Brilliant station and connect with the West Penn railroad on the north side of the Allegheny river, by means of a gigantic double-track bridge with great Ys at each end.

John E. Shaw, associated with Mr. Frick in the realty purchases at Fifth avenue and Grant street, said yesterday that he knew nothing of Mr. Frick having either sold or optioned any of the property to anyone. He was inclined to discredit the report.

The Pennsylvania interests have long been figuring on establishing better passenger terminals for East Liberty. A better location was desired, besides a more commodious station to meet the growing needs of the East End patrons of the big railroad system. Now, with the plans so far along to warrant the first authoritative announcement, no time will be lost in arranging to take up the improvement work. The new station site is, as told in The Gazette, to be some distance west of the present one and will have close communication with street car lines in Center, Ellsworth, Highland and Penn avenues.

Catholic Temperance Workers.

The Catholic Total Abstinence society of St. Paul's cathedral met yesterday afternoon with a large attendance. P. McSteen presided. Addresses on the work were made by Stephen Madden, James Finn and William McCarthy. It was decided to contribute $100 to Father John G. Blane for the immediate work of the Diocesan union in preparing for the national convention. The society will attend the Father Matthew celebration at the Bijou theater on the evening of October 12 in a body.

DR. BARNES HAS RESIGNED HIS LOCAL CHARGE

HAS ACCEPTED CALL TO WORCESTER, MASS.

At Service Yesterday He Announced That He Would Leave After Last Sunday in October. A Pastor There for 15 Years.

The Rev. Dr. Lemuel Call Barnes yesterday resigned the pastorate of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church to accept a call to the First Baptist church of Worcester, Mass. On Tuesday the advisory committee of the board of trustees will take official action on the resignation, and report to a congregational meeting of the church to be held on the following night.

Dr. Barnes has received frequent invitations to other fields of work during the 15 years he has occupied the pulpit of the Fourth Avenue church, but, notwithstanding, his acceptance of the offer from Worcester was received with some degree of surprise and the congregation has no successor in mind. Dr. Barnes will preach his farewell sermon on the last Sunday in October. In addressing his congregation yesterday morning, he said:

"It is clear to me now that the time has come to sever our relations as minister and people, but the time is never to come when we shall be separated in heart or sever our spiritual fellowship. Twenty centuries of eternity will be only the permanent beginning of that relationship.

Gives Up Charge.

"I hereby resign my ministry in this church, to accept a call to ministry in the First Baptist church, Worcester, Mass. Offers of missionary secretaryships and college presidencies have failed to win me away from ministry with you. But repeated calls of various kinds have compelled me to consider the question whether duty to the cause of Christ in general does not require me to leave this field to some other worker. Now, when the official boards of two noble churches at once have been pleading with me for pastoral service it has seemed that the Lord is forcing me to answer the question in the affirmative.

"We have toiled together under conditions which have driven many churches, some of them stronger than ours, from this part of the city. Instead of weakening, however, we have steadily gained in strength and efficiency. I rejoice with you in the fact that our outlook as a church, financially, is brighter today than for many years, noble as our record has always been.

"The fact that we have entered the new century with more accessions to the church than in any year in the last quarter of the old century, ought to give great satisfaction to us all.

"With feelings of unspeakable gratitude to God and to you, his people, for your patience with my faults, your steady cooperation, and, most of all, your true love, I now lay down this blessed ministry. This resignation, having been made with much prayer, deliberation and care for all the interests involved, is final, not subject to withdrawal."

The announcement in The Gazette on Thursday that Dr. Barnes probably had accepted the call to the Worcester field, was the first intelligence that reached the congregation regarding Dr. Barnes' plans, and in consequence the church was filled yesterday morning, nearly every member anticipating the pastor's decision. On every hand regret was expressed at the loss of a minister so popular. He will leave Pittsburgh with the good wishes of the entire congregation.

A Worker's Career.

Dr. Barnes is the son of Lemuel Munson and Rachel (Call) Barnes, and was born in Kirtland, O., on November 6, 1854. His maternal great-grandfather was the Rev. Stephen Call, a Baptist minister of Colerain, Mass., whose work in establishing new congregations made him famous in the history of the Baptist denomination in this country. Dr. Barnes' parents moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., and the young man entered Kalamazoo college, where he was graduated in 1875. He pursued his theological studies at Newton seminary, Mass., and was ordained in the ministry in 1878, in Kalamazoo.

His first pastorate was in the First Baptist church of St. Paul, Minn., where he remained until July, 1882, when he was called to the Fourth Avenue church in this city. He continued in the work over five years and removed to Newton, Mass., where he took the pulpit of the First Baptist church of that place. Nine years ago he returned to Pittsburgh and since has been with his present congregation. In 1890 Dr. Barnes was elected foreign secretary of the American Baptist Missionary union.

He married Miss Mary Clark of Kalamazoo, in 1879, and with his wife spent seven months in Europe in 1892. The Fourth Avenue church is the oldest Baptist congregation in Pittsburgh, having been founded in 1812.

NEW UNITARIAN CHURCH WILL BE BUILT AFTER THE NORMAN GOTHIC STYLE OF ARCHITECTURE

Proposed First Unitarian Church at Ellsworth and Morewood Avenues.

The congregation of the First Unitarian church, now worshiping in the frame chapel in Craig street, opposite the Duquesne garden, will soon lay the cornerstone of their new church at the southeast corner of Ellsworth and Morewood avenues. This site was bought for $35,000 shortly after the present church property was sold as an addition to the new Catholic cathedral site. The new site faces 170 feet in Morewood avenue and 181 feet in Ellsworth avenue. It is opposite the Shadyside academy and adjoins the costly residence properties of Attorney General P. C. Knox and of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker.

The original plan of the trustees was to build a church of white Georgia marble after the Greek Doric temple style, a decided innovation in Pittsburgh architecture. Later this plan was abandoned and the architects, Neal & Rowland, were instructed to make the design after the Norman Gothic model. The walls of the church will be of stone. It will have four gables and the conventional Norman tower at the corner. The audience room will seat 400 and the Sunday school rooms, which are separated from it by folding doors, will accommodate 150 more. The interior of the church is to be handsomely finished in hard wood with stained and art glass windows. On the outside an elaborate scheme of landscape work will make the site very attractive. The church will be set back 44 feet from Ellsworth avenue and the carriage entrance will be from Morewood avenue.

The First Unitarian congregation was organized in 1889 by the Rev. J. G. Townsend and was under the charge of the Rev. Charles E. St. John from 1891 to 1900. The Rev. L. Walter Mason, the present pastor, came to the charge in November, 1900, since which time the number of communicants has increased to 460. The congregation will continue to hold services in the present building until June 1, when it is expected the new edifice will be completed, at a cost of about $35,000.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WARNED OF DANGER

DR. THOMPSON DEPLORES CITY'S TEMPTATIONS.

Congregation Is Urged to Extend Welcome to Youthful Strangers from Country.

The Rev. W. Rowland Thompson, pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian church, last night preached a sermon to the young men and women of his congregation on some of the dangers of the city, in his text, from Proverbs, iv.26-27. Mr. Thompson pointed out the way for young people in their aim to lead a Christian life. "Ponder the path of thy feet and let all thy ways be established. Turn not to the right hand nor to the left; remove thy foot from evil."

"It is not my purpose to paint a gloomy picture or in any way slander our cities," said Mr. Thompson, "but dangers and snares lurk on every hand to entrap unwary feet. We have many young men and women coming from the country districts, attracted by the city's industrial activity, which offers them rich remuneration for their brawn and skill and with the children reared amid the city's environs, this makes our population of young people exceedingly large. They deserve our most earnest sympathy and the warm hand of Christian welcome to our churches, our homes and our hearts. The young strangers from the country have a strange feeling of loneliness, and in the absence of restraining influences of good associations, are led into forbidden paths and drawn into dens of iniquity.

"They see the worshiping of Mammon on every hand. Unless the church welcomes them they grow to disregard their spiritual welfare. Unbelief in all its alluring forms, the disregard of the Lord's day, the subtle influence of the saloon power, the so-called 'sacred concerts,' and the unrestraint in open places of diversion and amusement, rob vice of its hideous character. Its constant presence makes the unsuspecting familiar with its most depraving forms, and it is but a step from the path of rectitude to the slough of degredation.

"Young men and women, you must seek elevating, Christian association and resolve by the grace of God to overcome temptation. Seek and heed the sympathetic call of the Master who says, 'Ponder the path of thy feet and let all thy ways be established.'"

THE CHURCH IS NOT PERFECT, BUT IS GOD'S

The Rev. Alonzo J. Turkle Talks to His Congregation of Their Meeting Place.

At the Trinity Lutheran church in Stockton avenue, Allegheny, the Rev. Alonzo J. Turkle, the pastor, preached on the "Welcome and Worship of the Church." There was no such thing, he said, as a perfect man, a perfect woman, a perfect society, or a perfect church in which there was no weakness, no defective member, no backsliders. Some churches were better than others, but none measured up to the standard of perfection. One must not, however, make a too unfavorable conclusion, where things were ill, for there was an Enoch, a Job, an Abraham, a Wycliffe, a Huss, a Luther. All the stars had not gone out because the sky was overcast.

"Don't assume that things are not harmonious in the church because a member disagrees with you," said Mr. Turkle. "God has His faithful ones. There are always some good men and true, in whom the cause of Christ is justified. There are always women in the church who remain its glory. The church is Christ.

"We should find in the church something more than a mere meeting house. The church should be the marriage altar of the soul to the heart of God. You should feel in the church as if you were in the very presence of God. It is not for instruction alone that the church exists. It is a wrong idea to suppose that the sermon is the chief object for which the church exists. Every act and thought of yours while in the church should center in God.

"The church is a witness to Christ. The Roman Catholic church raises the dead Christ before her worshipers; we present the living Christ. The church is the church of Christ, when we make it the witness to the ever-living Christ.

"The church should be a meeting place between God and man. We ought to be a happy church, for we have blessings too numerous to mention. We are apt to have too much melancholy in our methods. We ought to keep our singers in front, voicing the praises of God for His mercies.

"The church wins when it goes forth to win. You should make it a social meeting place, bringing to the church those whom you meet socially during the week."

CORNER STONE IS LAID OF CHURCH IN WILKINSBURG

United Brethren Congregation Rejoices at Beginning of New Structure.

THE BRIGHT DAY DREW A GREAT CROWD

Usual Ceremony Was Observed and Addresses of Ministers Were Mingled With Songs of Praise.

Amid hymns of praise and thanksgiving by its congregation the corner stone of the new church of the United Brethren was laid in Wilkinsburg yesterday. It will be a magnificent structure of buff brick with granite trimmings, and will cost when completed $20,000, being one of the handsomest church edifices in the town.

The bright sun of an ideal September day caused the congregation and friends of the church to turn out en masse, and the corner stone laying was carried on with all the ceremony usually attending such events. The congregation now numbers about 200. It was organized 30 years ago, and has been increasing in membership so steadily that a larger house of worship became a necessity.

The exercises began at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with the reading of the scriptures by the pastor, the Rev. G. W. Sherrick. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. R. R. Rook, the Rev. W. V. Barnhart, the Rev. C. C. Miller, the Rev. F. P. Orner and the Rev. J. F. Truxal. Hymns by the church choir and the assembled multitude interspersed the program, and the shades of evening were falling when the corner stone was finally placed in position. Under it were placed in a tin receptacle copies of the newspapers, a list of the church membership and official boards, the religious papers of the denomination and the Book of Discipline.

The congregation is a flourishing one, and the church board hopes that by the time the new structure is complete it will be practically paid for and can be dedicated free of debt.

The program for the coming half year has been prepared by the Pittsburgh Ministerial association of the Reformed church. It schedules an interesting paper for every meeting up to the end of February, 1903. It is as follows:

September 22, "Is the Policy of Our Home Mission Board Adequate to the Needs of Our Church?" the Rev. M. M. Noacher; October 6, two questions in ministerial ethics: First, "Is It Wise for a Minister to Remain Single?" Second, "Is a Minister Justified in Using Tobacco?" the Rev. J. F. Bair; October 27, "The Relation of the Pulpit to Politics," the Rev. Dr. J. H. Prugh; November 10, "What Is the Constitutional Meaning of Family Visitation?" the Rev. H. Holliger; November 24, "The Church and Popular Amusements," Brother Althouse; December 8, "Which Is More Effective in Promoting Temperance, the Prohibitionist Party or the Anti-Saloon League?" the Rev. T. R. Dietz; December 22, "How Can Church Discipline Be Made More Effective?" the Rev. A. K. Kline; January 12, "Does This Scientific Age So Intellectualize the Pulpit as to Dwarf Its Spirituality?" the Rev. A. B. Bauman; February 9, "Some Defects in the New Theology," the Rev. Dr. D. B. Lady; February 23, "The Church Paper—How Can It Be Made More Helpful and Interesting?" the Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach. Committee: P. S. Leinbach, M. M. Noacher, A. F. Althouse.

Harvest Home Service.

A harvest home service was held yesterday morning in the Trinity Reform church of Wilkinsburg. The church was appropriately decorated with flowers and the products of the farm. A sermon by the Rev. Paul S. Lienbach, pastor of the church, was appropriate to the occasion. His subject was "The Harvest." There was special music by the choir. An organ recital preceded the evening service.

CHRIST'S MESSAGE TO EARLY CHURCH

DR. STANTON APPLIES TO THOSE OF TODAY.

Begins Series of Sermon Comparisons by Taking Up First Message to Ephesus.

The Rev. Dr. William Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, preached yesterday the first of a series of sermons entitled "Christ's Messages to the First Century Churches, Applied to Those of the Twentieth Century." The first message was to the church of Ephesus. He said in part:

The Rev. Dr. William A. Stanton.

"Christ is here represented as walking among the churches, in constant and immediate touch with them; exercising constant and direct supervision over them. The Head Master of the church is not an absent Master. The church is also represented as a divinely ordained means to an end. The end is the kingdom of God, which is larger than the church. In this message Christ describes Himself as the One who holds in His hand, subject to His control, the ministers of the church.

"There is much to commend in this church. He said: 'I know thy works and toil and patience.' Splendid things to know about any church indicating a well-organized, energetic, efficient body. This was also a church with discernment and cautious judgment. It could not bear evil men. Those that came making false pretenses were tested and discovered. The church protected itself from imposition. These good things about the church Christ told them He knew."

CHURCH CREEDS ARE DEFENDED BY REV. C. F. WISHART

He Tells Why They Are Necessities to Practical Christianity.

SYSTEMS THAT EXPLAIN THE SCRIPTURES

They Furnish a Basis, from Which Bible Can Be Taught and Serve to Overcome Individual Error and Ignorance.

At the morning service in the Eleventh United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, the Rev. C. F. Wishart strongly defended the creeds of the churches, taking the ground that a creed is a systematic statement and simply furnishes a teachable basis, where everything would be confusion without it and each member would have a creed of his own, full of errors and mysteries and not to be understood by any one else. He took as his subject "The Rise and Abuse of Creeds," preaching from II Timothy, 1:13, and said in part:

"The Bible is our only ultimate standard, but it is very necessary that we should know just what the Bible means. Sometimes we find in it difficulties to be cleared away, and seeming contradictions to be reconciled. If this book contains truth and all truth is consistent with itself, then it should be built up into a systematic statement that will reconcile seeming difference, determine logically and systematically the true meaning of the whole and apply it to teaching and life.

What Creed Is.

"To do this is to make a creed; and our creeds have simply been attempts of certain learned and devout students of the Bible to find out the most accurately and to express the most clearly just what the Bible means.

"When the problem novelist, or the cheap humorist, or the smart magazine writer, or even the notoriety hunting peripatetic evangelist, runs out of other game, he immediately goes gunning for creeds. Secure in the limitless expanse of his own theological ignorance, he boldly rushes in where angels fear to tread. His dippantly pettles with a word questions which the learning and piety of the world have spent centuries of reverent investigation in trying to determine. He rolls forth wise phrases of high sound about 'men-made creeds,' 'the bigotry of old beliefs,' 'traditional views,' and the like.

Why It Is Necessary.

"In the patronizing way of men of the world, with morals below par, and religious knowledge even lower than the morals, he tells the churches to 'throw away their creeds,' 'make religion a life and not a creed'—knowing neither what he says nor whereof he affirms.

"There can be no right life without right belief. To throw away our creeds would simply mean to substitute for one creed, with scholarship, piety and reverent investigation back of it, a million little creeds of our own, each marked with our own particular brand of ignorance.

"For a working church, a creed—imperfect though it may be—helps to clearer ideas of truth, forms a safeguard against error, sets forth a compact and teachable summary of Bible doctrine, and furnishes a common ground for Christians who see alike to work together. It is not an end in itself, but a means to an end. And it serves its end, when it gives us a clearer, better view of the Saviour, and when with reverent look of faith we see through creed to Christ."

THE CHAMPIONS HAVE WON ONE HUNDRED GAMES

CHAMPIONS WON DOUBLE HEADER FROM CHICAGO

Both of the Games Were Bagged by the Same Score of 4 to 1.

O'DAY SENT CLARKE OUT OF GROUNDS

The Pittsburgh Captain-Manager Questioned a Close Decision and Was Punished—Phillippe and Leever Pitched Fine Ball.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Bright hopes of Orphans for regaining a foothold in the first division today were rudely dissipated by the Pirates in a double-header played before 9,000 loyal rooters.

By their double victory over the Cincinnatis yesterday they came home treading on the heels of the rejuvenated Reds. It was planned to take both games from the Pittsburghers, and admittedly the worst that could happen was a draw. However, the Pirates bagged both games, the score in each reading 4 to 1 in their favor.

Both games were bitterly contested and few misplays were made. Fred Clarke had his troubles, but they did not result from his ancient feud with the left field bleacherites. It was Hank O'Day this time. As a result the captain-manager was told to take himself far back out of view.

The trouble arose in the eighth inning when O'Day called Slagle safe at second base. It was a close play and many in the grandstand thought Slagle was out, but O'Day did not see it that way.

Clarke Was Benched.

Clarke came in to protest, but the umpire would not listen to him and the captain grew hot. While he was telling Hank what he thought of the decision he was ordered to the bench, and because he did not move fast enough, was dispatched to the club house.

The fans had their first look at a couple of Selee's latest recruits today. Harry Schlafly, the three I leaguer, played right field in the first game and in the second was brought in to third base.

Morrissey, the New England twirler, officiated on the slab in the second contest.

It was their inability to solve Deacon Phillippe to any appreciable extent, added to a great pummeling Ludgren received in one inning, the cost the Orphans the first game.

In the second Leever held them safe from one end to the other and his team mates bunched enough hits in the first two innings to sew up the game. The schoolmaster was in his best form, striking out seven men. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls.

Hard Pitchers' Battles.

Phillippe and Lundgren were fighting tooth and nail until the seventh inning when the collegian weakened. In this inning the huskies from the Smoky City found Carl for a total of five clean hits, one a double. Added to this, Lundgren hit a batter.

All this netted the champions four runs, all they made during the game, but enough to win. It was Sebring that started the rally for Pittsburgh. He beat an infield hit to first and went to second on Ritchey's sacrifice. Then Lundgren pasted Conroy on the wing with a swift inshoot.

Phelps placed a single to right scoring Sebring and Phillippe followed suit, bringing Conroy home. Beaumont poked one over into the left garden and Clarke laced out a beautiful two-bagger that landed Phillippe and Beaumont, likewise the game.

Morrisey Had Troubles.

A bunching of hits by Tinker and Evers, combined with a wild pitch, gave the Orphans their only score in the same inning.

Manager Selee sent Morrissey in to win the second game and divide with the Pirates if possible. His undoing came in the first inning, when Beaumont started off by bunting safely. Clarke hit one to left. Leach struck out, but Wagner singled and scored the center fielder. Clarke came home later through Sebring's choice, the play being made on the champions' captain, but the out failed to materialize.

Their second score came across the plate in the next round, when Beaumont and Clarke each scored a double. Sebring cracked out a two-bagger in the sixth and scored on Ritchey's single to left, which made their fourth and last score of the game.

The Orphans were saved from a shutout in this game in the ninth inning when Kling singled, took second on Tinker's sacrifice and came home on the following outs.

NELSON WON AGAIN.

Plucky Little Cycler Defeated Freeman and Butler at Vailsburg Track.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 21.—While the threatening weather kept down the attendance at the Vailsburg bicycle track today, the racing was excellent throughout. Only one contest had to be postponed, the single motorcycle handicap.

The motor-cycle five-mile heat race resulted in a victory for Joe Nelson who won both heats in clever fashion. Freeman was second; Butler third, and Maya fourth. Intermediate records were made from one to four miles inclusive. Hurley won the two-mile open, for amateurs, but in the handicap Hurley and Root finished so close together that the judges called it a dead heat. The summaries:

One mile handicap, amateur—Dead heat between M. L. Hurley, New York A. C., scratch, and A. F. Root, Boston, scratch; W. A. Penn, New York, 140 yards, third; Edward Bailey, New York, 80 yards, fourth. Time, 2:02.

Five mile, motor-cycle paced, heat race professional—Won by Joe Nelson; H. B. Freeman, second; Nat Butler, third; Otto Maya, fourth. First heat won by Nelson; Butler, second; Maya, third; Freeman, fourth. Time, 7:01. Second heat won by Nelson; Freeman, second; Butler, third; Maya, fourth. Time, 6:56 2-5. Intermediate times, 1:29, 2:49 1-5, 4:09, 5:30 3-5 and 6:56 2-5.

Two-mile open, amateur—Won by M. L. Hurley, New York A. C.; Teddy Billington, New York A. C., second; George Glason, Bay View Wheelmen, third; E. F. Root, Boston, fourth. Time, 3:37 3-5.

LESTER WILSON HOME.

Pittsburgh Cycler Returns After Season Spent in Eastern Racing Circuit.

Lester Wilson, the Pittsburgh cycler, who has been riding in the eastern circuit for the past two months, returned to his home yesterday. He has not made much of a record this season, but illness has handicapped him a great deal.

Wilson is loud in his praises of Frank Kramer, the champion, whom he believes to be one of the greatest cyclers of the age. He says Kramer has ridden some very hard races, but he has had practically a loaf for honors this season on account of the inability of some of the best candidates to ride.

Wilson is an advocate of two cycle racing circuits, one for the west and the other for the east. He would like to see Pittsburgh the central points for the western circuit and have meets held in all the prominent cities in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Cleveland and St. Louis Made an Even Divide of a Double-Header.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—St. Louis and Cleveland split even on another double-header this afternoon, both games being close and the second going to 10 innings. Sudhoff pitched a fine game in the first, but so did Moore, and Cleveland lost through a bunch of errors in the fifth inning.

Reidy pitched good ball for St. Louis up to the 10th inning. Then he weakened and Cleveland batted out a victory. Bernhard was effective and won his fifth straight victory. Attendance, 16,510. Scores:

RACES AT BEAVER FALLS.

Trotting Meeting on New Half-Mile Track Promises to Be Very Successful.

All is in readiness for the four days' trotting meeting this week at Beaver Falls in connection with the Beaver county fair. The meeting scheduled will be the first regular trotting racing on the new half-mile track at Beaver Falls, and from the enthusiasm already shown by horsemen, the meet will be one of the most successful ever held in the Beaver valley.

The racing starts tomorrow, but the first day will be devoted principally to Beaver county steppers, the circuit chasers taking the next three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

There is a large entry list, every class having filled and some great sport is promised. Paddy Nee of Pittsburgh has been granted the pool privileges for the meeting.

Heretofore the trotting meetings have been held at Beaver in connection with the county fair, but the old track has been cut up into building lots and a new track was built at Beaver Falls.

PIRATES AHEAD OF ALL OTHER RECORDS

HAVE WON 100 OUT OF 134 GAMES PLAYED.

Want the Series from Cincinnati. Dreyfuss Is Elated—Benefit Game Being Arranged.

"Now that is real news and good news, too," said President Barney Dreyfuss of the champions last night when informed by The Gazette that the Pirates had succeeded in capturing both games of the double-header from Chicago and thus reached the century mark in the number of contests won this season.

"Now, we want those other five games with the Cincinnati Reds. Yes, we should win every one of the series, and when the players have worked so hard to make such a splendid record they will not be disappointed. I feel sure. Of course, I am delighted that the team won both games today and made it the even hundred, but we are after more glory. It is our object to smash the record so hard there will be no question about it.

"Oh, if we just had those other five games, wop. But we'll get them, now see if we don't. I have the greatest faith in the world in my players and when they start after a record they are going to get it every time. Every member of the team is putting in his hardest licks to win just now and the Pittsburgh baseball fans will have a pennant-winning team this year with a record to be proud of."

Century Mark Reached.

By winning 100 games on the present schedule the champions have a good right to feel proud. This season's schedule calls for 140 games, but the best Pittsburgh can do is to play 139 of them. There is still one postponed game with New York which it will be almost impossible to play before the season ends.

The highest records made in the National league to date are by Boston and Brooklyn, when those teams captured the pennants some years ago. Each team won 102 games out of 152 played. By taking three out of the five contests with the Cincinnati Reds the Pirates will pass all previous records.

The champions have already broken all former records for such a schedule as has been in force this season. They have attained a greater percentage than either Brooklyn or Boston in their championship years.

The Pirates will not have another championship game until next Saturday, when they meet Cincinnati at Exposition park. Then they go to Cincinnati on Sunday. The Reds appear in Pittsburgh again October 2 and 4 and the champions finish the season in Cincinnati on October 5.

The Exhibition Games.

The Pittsburgh team left Chicago last evening for Buffalo, where it is scheduled to play this afternoon. The champions will play the Toronto (Can.) team Tuesday and at Montreal on Wednesday. Then comes a jump to Worcester, Mass., for Thursday's game and thence to North Adams, Mass., the home of Algy Chesbro. The managers of the game at North Adams do not believe the grounds at that place sufficiently large and have decided to bring off the contest at the fair grounds at Blackinton.

After the close of the season at Cincinnati Sunday, October 5, an exhibition game is being arranged for in Pittsburgh Monday for the benefit of the players. Nearly every member of the champions will participate in the contest and it is expected that it will be largely attended.

For Players' Benefit.

Chief Zimmer has the arrangements in charge for the players' benefit game, but as yet the two teams have not been selected. It is probable also that the Pirates will take a barn-storming trip, which is customary at the close of each season.

There was a report current in Pittsburgh last night that Tommy Leach had been made a new offer by the American league. This, it is said, came a few days ago, and the berth carries with it a salary of $10,000 for two years. Advance money will be paid the little third baseman when he signs a contract and the rumor had it that Tommy would receive $6,500 in cash at the conclusion of the first game in the other organization.

President Dreyfuss refused to discuss the report. He stated that the owners of the team were assured of all the players they wanted for next season, and it is inferred from this remark that it is well known how Leach stands.

M'NEIL'S WILDNESS LOST.

Sharon Pitcher Was Erratic and the All Stars Won Easily.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Spade, the old Interstate league twirler, pitched fine ball today for the All Stars of the Eastern Ohio and received excellent support, which caused Sharon's defeat.

McNeil was largely responsible for three runs of the visitors, while he only gave six hits he made two wild pitches and gave six bases on balls. Yoho played a star game at third base. The score:

Sharon	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	6	3

Batteries—Spade and Fatterson, McNeil and Brandt.

Weekly Review of Market Quotations

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Oats and Shelled Corn Are Lower—Timothy Seed Declines.

Summary for Last Week.

During the week just past there have not been many fluctuations in prices for hay and grains, but what changes have taken place were in a downward direction. No. 1 timothy hay declined, feeling the pressure of improvement in receipts, which have been good. White and brown middlings declined 50 cents a ton about the middle of the week, and were holding at the lower figures on Saturday. Shelled corn went off a cent a bushel, and oats declined a half cent on Saturday. There is a large corn crop and when new corn gets into satisfactory condition and comes into market freely there will be a slump in quotations. So far spot prices have not been affected much, and quotations have been

MORE RECORDS BROKEN.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for the Week Over $4,000,000 Larger Than a Year Ago.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the week ending yesterday were more than $4,000,000 larger than those for the same period last year, and were also that much greater than for any similar week in the history of Pittsburgh. The total for the year to date also broke all records and showed a gain of more than $84,000,000 over the same period a year ago. Compared with the preceding week there was a decrease of about $3,500,000, while the exchanges for yesterday were $473,000 smaller than in 1901. The local money market has ruled very firm throughout the week, with the rate for call and time loans at 6@6 per cent. The feeling at the close was a shade more comfortable and the indications pointed toward a somewhat easier condition, at least, temporarily.

The detailed clearing house reports are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$7,321,770 47	$ 868,494 66
Previous Saturday	6,021,255 56	1,027,452 49
Last year	5,704,836 37	1,282,682 20

Yesterday's decrease, $1,299,045 90.

The figures of the clearing house for the week ending yesterday, compared with those for the preceding week and the same week (5 days) last year, are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.

SALES SMALL, PRICES GENERALLY HIGHER

The volume of business transacted upon the Pittsburgh stock exchange during the week ending yesterday was about 18,000 shares and $18,000 bonds smaller than that of the preceding week, but the majority of changes in prices showed gains. The banking group continued its sensational course, scoring 13 new high records in the selling prices and several more in the bids. The industrials were less active and somewhat irregular. The close was generally steady to firm. The total public sales for the week were 38,362 shares of stock and $12,000 bonds. These figures compare with 56,161 shares of stock, $60,000 bonds and $100 scrip for the preceding week, and with 45,216 shares of stock and $58,000 bonds during the same week (five days only) last year.

The following statement is a complete summary of the publicly recorded transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange during the week beginning Monday, September 15, and ending with Saturday, September 20, 1902. It shows total sales, the opening, highest, lowest and closing prices, and the changes in the selling prices compared with those of the preceding week and the nearest ones to that time:

ROBERTSON OUT IN A MANIFESTO OF IDLE WORDS

Chairman of the Machine's County Organization Is Heard From.

THE SCREED DIRECTED AGAINST CITIZENS

Is Strong and Vigorous on Alleged Misdeeds of Leaders of Citizens Party, but Wisely Refrains from Those of the Ring.

Andrew C. Robertson, chairman of the county organization maintained and controlled by the machine, and which has taken for its own the much abused title "Republican," has issued a long-winded manifesto in which he gives his opinion, not a favorable one, of course, on the Citizens party. Robertson is strong and vigorous on the alleged misdeeds of the Citizens party's leaders, but wisely refrains from taking up the well-known misdeeds and bad methods of the machine leaders.

In a perfectly serious vein Robertson says the machine, which he calls the Republican party, is a party of deeds and performance, and a party of achievement, which nobody denies, if "achievement" implies fine financial results to private purses. Taking a leaf from the people's experience with the machine, Mr. Robertson says that "promises are proverbially cheap and easily made," indicating that in his opinion the Citizens party is no better than the machine.

A Lot of Chatter About Tests.

The manifesto invites anybody to test the "administrated acts and policies" of the "Allegheny county Republican party," meaning the machine. After saying that the opposition is "newly born," he insists that it shall submit to the same tests he wants applied to the machine. Further along he says the leaders of the Citizens party are almost to a man place hunters out of a job, scoreheads and ex-officeholders.

Robertson adduces five crimes with which, he says, the machine is charged, bossism, franchise grabbing, the use of money in politics, no sincerity in ballot reform and disregard of the merit system and of civil service. These charges, he states, he proposes to show the public are without foundation, and he proceeds to do this by making counter-charges against the Citizens party.

He avers that the coalition of the Citizens party and the Democrats started out with two committees of 10 each, and that these 20 "bosses" narrowed down to three, dominated by one, and he asks if that is not the most outrageous bossism. Referring, although not by name, to the elevated railroad franchises, he praises the machine members of councils for refusing to grant them. He does not, however, pledge the machine not to grant them when the Pittsburgh Railways Company is an applicant for the privileges.

Wild Statements About Money.

There is no evidence, Robertson says, that any machine official has violated the law regarding the use of money, but he asserts that at the Democratic state convention a prominent Democrat offered to give $50,000 if a Democratic reform candidate received the gubernatorial nomination, and that the leading Democratic candidate on the Citizens county ticket, offered $450 for 45 district delegates to the convention which nominated the Citizens tickets.

The demand of the Citizens platform for a pure ballot law is characterized as grotesque and a sham. The Citizens party is accused of having flooded the town with fraudulent tax receipts and with duplicating the tax receipt plates at the last election.

The Citizens themselves disregard the merit system and civil service reform when they failed to renominate Judge Stowe for another term, the manifesto says. It is asserted that the machine ticket was not selected in the back room of a boss; that it represents all nationalities and beliefs, and that creed, color or nationality are not bars to preferment in the ranks of the machine. Demagoguery, hypocrisy, false pretense, and suffrage debauchery are a few of the choice crimes Robertson charges to the opposition. In the peroration in his manifesto he predicts handsome majorities for the "Republican" ticket, and says Carlyle might have called the Citizens party a "menagerie of manplots."

The First New Calendar.

The first of the coming year's calendars to reach The Gazette is that of the Pittsburgh & Buffalo Company. It is very handsome, both in artistic design and mechanical execution. Half-tones representing five of the company's extensive works adorns the heavy card and the calendar slips present the months from September, 1902, to December, 1903.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21.—The stage of the river at 6 p. m. marked 4.2 feet and stationary. Weather clear and pleasant. Packets in and out on time. Business light on the levee. No towboat movements. Dredging continues on the bar at the mouth of the Licking river. Although an almost indescribable amount of work has been done on this spot, the work seems inexhaustible.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 2.6 feet; falls, 3 inches; foot of locks, 5.6 feet. Business fair. Weather clear. Packets on time in and out.

MEMPHIS—River 5 feet. All the local packets due today arrived on time.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary. Cloudy.

OIL CITY—River 2 inches and falling. Clear and warm.

WARREN—River .3 feet below. Fair and warm.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet and stationary. Clear and warm. Elizabeth and Woodvard down Monday; Gertrude and Columbia up.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Clear and warm.

PARKERSBURG—River 2.4 feet and falling. Clear and warm. The Hesse-Smith arrived from Wheeling and laid up. No boats are running now.

POINT PLEASANT—River 1 foot 2 inches and falling. Partly cloudy and warm.

GALLIPOLIS—River 3 feet and stationary. Clear and warm.

STEUBENVILLE—River 1 foot 3 inches and falling. Clear and warm.

WHEELING—River 1 foot 5 inches and falling. Clear and warm.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage of water 1.8 feet and stationary.

Packets Leaving Today.

Gertrude, Morgantown, 3 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

The towboats Boaz and J. B. Finley are both tied up at Paducah, Ky.

French's show boat has arrived at Chester, Ill., in tow of the little steamer Clyde.

Capt. Wash Thompson, the former well-known steamboat man, has quit the river and is now a resident of the state of Georgia.

The J. T. Reeder is the new name for the steamer Lucile Borden, now having a new hull and other extensive improvements made on the dry docks at Paducah. When completed she will run in the upper Tennessee river trade.

The John K. Speed, Buckeye State, New South and State of Kansas ran in the Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans trade four years ago. Since then the Speed, Kansas and Buckeye State have gone out of existence and now only the New South is left—the last boat left of the line. The probabilities are that another line may never be established.

BEAUTIFUL DAY FILLED THE PARKS

THOUSANDS ENJOYED THE FINE WEATHER.

Zoo Was as Popular as Ever and Has Received Some Additions. At Conservatory.

All nature was smiling yesterday and thousands of visitors took advantage of her genial mood to visit the parks. The roads and paths were thronged with people, while over the driveways skimmed fashionable rigs of all kinds. Nature is painting the fields and woodlands in many colors and the beautiful blue autumn sky makes the scene most enchanting.

Highland park was again the Mecca for thousands of visitors, many of whom were strangers. The zoo was thronged all day and the animals appeared to enjoy the presence of the visitors. Scattered about were knots of people enjoying the lovely afternoon, lolling on the grass or sitting under the shade of the trees. In every nook and corner could be seen family parties spending the afternoon in sweet commune with nature.

Additions to Zoo.

Preparations are rapidly being completed for the transfer of many of the animals on the hill to their winter quarters. The most delicate of the animals were transferred to their winter homes during the week, among them the East Indian antelope, zebu and the South American armadillo, or ant-eater. Other delicate animals will be placed in winter quarters during the week. Another addition to the zoo came on Friday in the shape of a baby elk. This increases the herd to 26 and makes it the finest collection of these animals in any park in the country.

Other additions to the zoo are a zebu bull and a pair of white peafowl, received during the week in exchange for a lion. Another lion was exchanged for two California sea lions, one of which has been received, and the other expected in a short time. An opposum was donated by C. Brewster Hughis of No. 537 Graham street, and three small alligators, the gift of J. R. Reed of Ingram.

At Schenley Park.

The attendance at Schenley park was large. During the afternoon many strangers visited the museum. It is a pity the museum is not larger, as only a small number of people can visit it at a time. The conservatory draw a good crowd during the day. The new cacti house will be opened to the public on October 26, when the chrysanthemum show opens. The last shipment of cactus from the west was received a few days ago by Supt. Falconer and placed in the new house. The cacti display at the conservatory will be one of the finest in the country.

It was an ideal day at the trolley parks. Thousands of people visited Kennywood, Calhoun, Oakwood and Southern parks where band concerts were given. The traction parks are to close early this year, probably about October 1.

POLICE MAGISTRATES' SUNDAY MORNING WORK

Only Special Feature Was Disposal of 12 Disorderly House Raids at Central Police Station.

Twelve people were charged with keeping disorderly houses at the Central police station hearings yesterday morning. One of them, John J. Murphy of Wyoming street, was held for court on two charges of selling liquor illegally. He and two other men were arrested in a house at Fourth avenue and Chancery lane, and one of them, Joseph Haney, was at first alleged to be the keeper of the house. He and the other man proved they had nothing to do with the house and both were discharged, while Murphy was held as the proprietor.

Henry Kane got into trouble by stepping forward to pay the fine of Rosie Brown of No. 550 Grant street. She was fined $50 and costs for keeping a disorderly house. Inspector Fred Wilcharged him with being a joint proprietor and he was fined $100 and costs. In addition the inspector threatened to make information against him for renting houses for immoral purposes.

The others who were fined $100 and costs were Sophie Sinkivich of No. 538 Second avenue, Mary Sedenski of No. 540 Second avenue, Sarah Davis of No. 942 Second avenue, and Mrs. Frank Anderson of No. 646 Fifth avenue. Those who paid $50 and costs were Mary Gilbert of No. 617 Webster avenue, Kate Holmes of No. 57 Tunnel street, Jennie McKee of No. 712 Watson street, and Annie McMillen of No. 707 Watson street. Mrs. Kate Breen of Shingiss street was fined $25 and costs. There were 33 visitors found in the various places, all of whom paid $1 and costs each. Seven men found gambling at No. 51 Chatham street were also fined $1 and costs.

Walter Johnson was sentenced to pay $25 and costs or go to the workhouse for 90 days as a suspicious character. He was found with a drunken man under the Ninth street bridge, and it was thought he meant to rob him. James Carter got a like sentence for drawing a knife to cut a woman at No. 212 Grant street. The total number of prisoners was 117 and 41 were discharged.

Magistrate D. J. McCarey had but few prisoners before him at the Twenty-eighth ward police station yesterday. Martin Krawyek and four other Poles paid $5 and costs for fighting at their boarding house, No. 3228 Harcums alley. Owen Fitzpatrick of No. 2523 Carson street paid $1 and costs for insulting a woman on Carson street.

At the hearing at No. 5 police station yesterday morning four boys, John Beiter, Paul Lorterman, Anthony Hoffman and John Wochley, arrested on the charge of corner-loafing, were discharged with a reprimand.

Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen had 20 cases on his docket at the hearings at the Allegheny police station yesterday. Fourteen were charged with disorderly conduct, the balance being for drunkenness. John Manning of Shady avenue was fined $5 and costs for abusing his wife, and Alexander Tack of McClure avenue was fined a like sum for kicking in a door at Liberty hall. Matt Link of No. 1690 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, and George Schubel of Coraopolis were each fined $15 and costs. They fought with a conductor on a Millvale and Etna car late Saturday night, beating and kicking him severely.

Nervous?

Easily discouraged? Things look dark? Can't sleep well? Restless and worn out? "Nervous exhaustion," your doctor says. Ask him if he knows of a better nerve-tonic than Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Sixty years of success. $1.00. All druggists.

One great cause of nervousness is constipation. Impurities that should be removed from the system are absorbed into it. One of Ayer's Pills each night, just one, will keep the liver and bowels in a healthy condition.

AMERICANS PUT MUCH MORE CASH IN THEIR BANKS

Deposits Throughout Country Have Doubled in a Decade.

NATIONAL AND SAVINGS HOUSES FAVORED

State and Private Institutions as Well as Loan and Trust Companies Get Their Share—Recent Increase Is Very Rapid.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, Sept. 21.

A special to the Herald from Washington says:

"During the 10 years just passed the bank deposits of the people of the United States have doubled. Figures just compiled by the treasury bureau of statistics show that 10 years ago the people of the country had deposited in the banks $4,232,000,000. Today they have in bank an aggregate of $8,500,000,000, or $168 per capita. Twenty years ago there was only a little over a quarter of the present amount on deposit.

The reports of the comptroller of the currency are the basis for these figures, and in them is included deposits in national banks, savings banks, state banks, loan and trust companies and private banks. The figures are brought up to the close of 1901.

The increase in deposits during recent years has been very rapid, and analysis of the deposits in each class of banks is interesting. It shows that national banks and savings hold the most of the money of the people. The individual deposits in national banks, for example, grew from $500,000,000 in 1865 to $618,000,000 in 1875, $1,111,000,000 in 1885, $1,720,000,000 in 1895 and $2,937,000,000 in 1901, to $3,111,000,000 in 1902.

For savings banks the figures extend back to 1820, and show the total deposits in that year at $1,138,576; in 1830, $6,-573,304; in 1840, $14,061,520; in 1850, $45,-631,180; in 1860, $149,277,504; in 1880, $819,-166,578; in 1890, $1,524,844,593 and in 1901, $2,507,094,580. For state banks the figures extend back to 1850 and show for that year total deposits to the value of $75,-693,857. These deposits show a steady increase, and in 1901 are $1,610,502,246.

For loan and trust companies the figures begin with the year 1875, and show deposits for that year at $85,025,371, and 1901, $1,271,081,374.

The figures of deposits in private banks are complete from 1875 to 1882, by reason of the fact that deposits in such banks were taxed during that period and, therefore, returns were complete; but on the repeal of the law placing a tax on such deposits, only about one-fourth of the total number of private banks continued to make reports to the controller of the currency. In 1875 these figures were $221,-160,000, and in 1901, $1,180,621,803.

We Are Beginning to Take Autumn Seriously, for last week was a criterion—pointedly showing that the business of this store through the Autumn months will be enormous.

By taking Autumn seriously is meant have we, in the abundance of stocks, bought sufficient to go through a season that promises to outstrip, far and away, any former season.

Many things, in variety ample for all present purposes, cannot be duplicated. When they are gone that ends the matter.

You will be doing yourself a favor by looking through our assortments for any and every Autumn fashion you have in mind, at your earliest convenience.

Several important matters are related below.

Special Sale of Fine Austrian China.

This by way of preface, and for the special consideration of those about to buy china: Our general lines of china exceed by far any retail or wholesale house in Pittsburg. Most of the china, especially in department stores, is bought from jobbers, and that means unsatisfactory and limited variety. We are the only store in the city that sends its buyer of china to Europe, and which sells this foreign china for less prices than the common grades so prevalent in this country.

In verification of the above we submit this direct importation of some 4,000 pieces of Imperial China from Carlsbad.

The entire shipment is made up of Plates of all sizes, and Tea Cups and Saucers, in both plain white china and in decorations.

The decoration is a beautiful festoon of pink roses, surrounded by a delicate green enameled line.

On sale to-day, in the Basement China Store, at these remarkable underprices:

$6 a dozen Dinner Plates, 35c each, $4 a dozen.

$5 a dozen Breakfast Plates, 30c each, $3.50 a dozen.

$6 a dozen Soup Plates, 35c each, $4 a dozen.

$6 a dozen Coupe Soups, 35c each, $4 a dozen.

$4 a dozen Dessert Plates, 25c each, $3 a dozen.

$3.50 a dozen Bread and Butter Plates, 25c each, $2.50 a dozen.

$3 a dozen Fruit Saucers, 12½c each, $1.50 a dozen.

$6 a dozen Tea Cups and Saucers, 35c each, $4 a dozen.

And on the pure white China such underprices as these:

$3.50 a dozen Dinner Plates, $2.50 a dozen.

$3.50 a dozen Soup Plates, $2.50 a dozen.

$3.50 a dozen Coupe Soups, $2.50 a dozen.

$3.50 a dozen Breakfast Plates, $2.25 a dozen.

$3 a dozen Dessert Plates, $2 a dozen.

$2.75 a dozen Bread and Butter Plates, $1.75 a dozen.

$3.50 a dozen Teas and Saucers, $2.50 a dozen.

The foregoing is a clear demonstration of how profitable to the buyer it is for us to send our buyers abroad. This ware sells when bought from importers, for the first prices named.

The New Scotch Rugs Are Here.

A trinity of uses—traveling, steamer, couch.

Fresh from the looms in Scotland. Exclusive styles, colorings and patterns. We go direct to the makers for these rugs, and our choice is from thousands of patterns.

In the Pretty Scotch clans there are the Macduff, Robertson, Fraser, Stewart, MacKenzie, Forbes, Gordon, Murray, 42d, Cameron, etc.

Prices range from $6 to $40.

Wish intending buyers will notice the emphasis on all wool when we quote $6 for an imported Scotch Rug.

The finest rugs are made of Vicuna wool, the softest and most beautiful colors being used.

These rugs are for sale in the Men's Furnishing Store.

Women's Knit Underwear.

With the closing in of Autumn comes the warning to lay aside thin underwear.

Our complete lines of Autumn weights are ready.

Corset Covers of cotton, 25c, 50c, 65c, $1.

Corset Covers of merino, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

Vests and Drawers of cotton, 25c, 35c, 50c, $1.

Vests and Drawers of merino, 75c, $1, $1.35, $1.50.

Vests and Drawers of wool, $1.25, $1.50, $2.25.

We also have all the Underwear that children are used to in the early fall. All sizes. Prices from 25c to $3 a garment.

Voiles and Their Relatives.

Thin, clinging stuffs, those plain French weaves of all wool and silk and wool, are to be as popular this Fall as they were last Spring.

Voiles have many relatives, some of them very close. There are the full cousins—crepe de chine, etamine and mistral. They make fascinating evening, dinner and reception gowns, equal with the real voiles. And either makes an elegant street gown to be worn under long wraps.

In the above materials we have a broad quality range, and an equally broad range of colors, including many new shades.

French all wool Voiles, 85c to $2.00 a yard.

French all wool Etamines, $1 to $1.75 a yard.

All wool Mistrals, at 65c a yard.

French silk-and-wool Crepe de Chines, $1 to $1.50 a yard.

French silk-and-wool Barege, $1.25, $1.50, $2 a yard.

And we are pleased to announce another shipment of the 43-inch $1.50 a yard Imported Silk Dot Crepes, made by the famous Frenchman, Lupin—22 shades—and our price is..... 75c a Yd.

Women's Silk Petticoats.

If you choose to pay $75 for a silk petticoat we'll show you the finest specimens that ever came out of Paris. And we'll show you some very handsome Parisian styles for a great deal less.

If you prefer something neat, something that won't cost you much money, then look at the productions of American makers, beginning at $5 and running along by easy stages to higher figures.

Both French and American in all the pretty shades, also black and white.

Following is something very special:

Black Taffeta Petticoats for $4.50— Two styles—one with graduated accordion pleated flounce and ruffle and under ruffle; the other with circular flounce and under ruffle.

Women's Wrappers and Kimonas.

Beginning with percale the materials range to finest wools and silks. Every new idea that has been thought of. As to prices consult your purse, and what you have in mind to pay will be met with in this second floor department.

Take this as an instance:

Flannelette Wrappers of a very good quality—desirable stripes and polka-dots—all sizes—$1.

Some New Velvets and Their Relatives.

It will not be news to say this is going to be a great velvet season. You expect of us variety. No disappointment awaits you. Ready with large and varied stocks of velvets, velours and velutinas.

Velour du Nords, many different grades 32-inch widths, $2 to $4.50 a yard.

Plain Black Velvets, $1 to $10 a yard.

Fancy Velvets and Velutinas, 85c to $5 a yard.

Plain Velutinas, 75c to $2 a yard.

Velutina Cords, $1, $1.10, $1.25 a yard.

Queen Quality Shoes.

To detail the good points of this famous shoe would be like undertaking to call off, in a casual way, the artistic features of some work of art.

There are so many of these good points that to name one or two or three, would break the chain.

It is conceded by women, who know, that there is no shoe equal to it—at the price; there is no shoe so graceful—at the price; no shoe so perfect fitting—at the price.

To get these perfections it takes at the very least $1 more in any other shoe.

We carry some 43 styles of Queen Quality Shoes. Collectively there is every leather that enters into the making of women's fine shoes. In each style there is every size. And there is no prominent style but what is represented.

Forty of these styles sell for $3 pair.

Three very special numbers are $3.50 a pair.

The Handsome New Silks.

Of wedding silks, and silks for reception gowns, first. Admirable reading for women who are engaged; equally good reading for matrons and young married women.

These silks are representatives of an enormous line of medium to finest grades of silks to be worn at weddings and receptions.

White Brocades at $1 a yard, and many intermediate prices up to $8.

Moire Antiques, and silks in renaissance effects, 85c a yard and up to $4.50.

White Crepe de Chine, 75c to $5.

Satin Duchess, $1 to $5 a yard.

The new Pompadour and Louis XV. effects, extensive as to variety, $1.25 a yard and up to $8.75.

A fine showing of novelty silks, exquisite small and neat effects, for the making of dresses for bridesmaids, $1 to $1.75 a yard.

Silks for every day purposes are amazingly pretty, and we have them in abundance, such as plaids and checks in the Scotch clan effects, 75c to $1.50 a yard.

The Black Silks, favored by so many women, have a great showing. Among them—

High novelties in moire effects, also brocades, $1.25 to $4 a yard.

Black Crepe de Chine, 75c to $4 a yard.

Very rich Black Peau de Soie and Taffeta Meteor—full yard wide—$1.25 to $3 a yard.

Another Black Taffeta Meteor, one of the best French weaves, has a high luster. We have it in six different styles. Although this special number was made to sell for $1.75 a yard, we are enabled to say for it the even $1 a yard.

New Suits and Wraps Arriving Hourly.

Every express brings something new. That's our way. We are always looking and getting. Our efforts receive their full measure of appreciation. Our sales in these departments are on the increase—marvelously so.

So you may as well carry in mind that the newest things always have the first showing here.

Today we will have on sale some of the most exquisite creations from foreign and American makers that have, so far, been produced this season.

In costumes we make a comprehensive showing of strikingly beautiful effects in velvet, crepe de chine, peau de cygne, taffeta and cloth, garnitured elaborately with hand-made lace, embroidery, etc., and the prices begin at $65 and graduate easily to $200.

Dress and Walking Suits. Our lines are practically complete. From careful observation we are inclined to believe a like display of style cannot be met with anywhere in the city. Every new fabric, every new conceit in trimming, and every new model that appeals to lovers of high class tailoring, is embodied in these Autumn dresses. $20 and along to $100.

New Walking Suits $20. The popular black and whites, blue and white, green and white snowflake cloth, in Norfolk effect with gored skirt. Perfectly tailored. All sizes.

New Walking Suits $12. Heavy melton in oxford gray. Pretty postillion-back jacket with strappings of same cloth; gored skirt with full flare bottom.

Long Coats at $10. A remarkable value. About 75 fine long coats, in half-fitted and loose back style, with and without yokes. Made of medium weight materials in several colors and black. Many are half lined with silk. Any coat in the collection is worth $20. One of those rare occurrences that crosses the path of a buyer once in awhile, and that is how you buy them for half.

Coats for street and carriage wear—broadcloth, velvet, covert, kersey and various silks—each showing the touch of the master hand. Most of these are exhibited in our imported room. $35 to $150.

The New Linens.
